Giant Battle Of Suchow Rages On; Now In Ninth Day

Chinese Government Claims Communists Have Lost 93,000 Troops In Battle

COMMUNISTS MAKE COUNTER CLAIMS

By SEYMOUR TOPPING
(By International News Service)

NANKING, Nov. 18.—The Chinese government claimed today the Communists had suffered serious losses in the prolonged battle of Suchow on the main northern approaches to Nanking.

Government sources asserted that 93,000 Red troops have been killed or wounded in the million-man engagement, as Nationalist reinforcements moved up to the flaming front.

The great struggle, on the outcome of which may hinge the fate of China's heartland, roared through its ninth day, with the issue apparently still in the balance.

Claim Reds Repulsed

The Nationalists yesterday claimed they repulsed Red columns on the east wing of the Suchow front. The Communists were said to have been hurled into northward retreat b ythe government's second army corps..

The Reds, however, admittedly destroyed the Nationalist seventh army corps before the second corps arrived in the sector and counter-attacked.

Eight thousand Communist officers and men were said to have been taken prisoner east of Suchow, which lies 175 miles north of Nanking and the Yangtze river. Other thousands of Reds, it was claimed, were killed or disabled.

Reds Make Claimes

The Reds matched Nationalist assertions with victory claims of their own. The Communist radio broadcast a statement that Red columns had swept around Suchow's southern flank, capturing Suhsien and cutting a wide swath across the rail and highway routes to Nanking.

Nationalist reserve troops, meantime, deployed along a new defense line along the Huai river, 100 miles north of the Nanking-Shanghai stretch of the lower Langtze.

It was believed the government forces now engaged in the Suchow struggle woold fall back to the

Body Of Missing New Jersey Nurse Found By Hunters

Discovery Made In New Hampshire—Missing Since Last July 20

OSSIPEE, N. H., Nov. 18.—(INS)—Ace New Hampshire state detectives took up today the long-cold trail of the slayer of Ruth Eisenberg, 22, missing Newark, N. J., nurse whose body was found in a shallow grave.

The pretty, blonde and brown-eyed nurse vanished July 20 while on a hitch-hike vacation tour of New England. Her gagged and battered body was found in a sand-pit grave by a group of hunters, just off a lovers' lane near the Ossipee-Wakefield line.

Maj. Dwight Comstock, head of the New Hampshire state police, assumed immediate charge.

Maj. Comstock telephoned Attorney Jerome Eisenberg, the missing girl's uncle, to rush a dental chart of the nurse so that identification can be positive.

Parents Informed

Also told that the long hunt apparently was ended was Ephriam Eisenberg, Newark high school principal, the girl's father, and her mother.

Mrs. Eisenberg, reported near a state of collapse, is convinced that the search for her daughter is ended. Sadly she said:

"I expect that my husband and his brother will leave for New Hampshire some time today".

The victim's body was found by accident when a party of young hunters was unable to recall dogs from a sandpit in which they were digging frantically.

William L. Derry, one of the hunters, notified state and local police.

Identification was guessed almost at once for it was on a road in nearby Wakefield two months ago that a resident found the

More U.S. Marines Sent To China To Aid In Evacuation

Force Of 1,250 Being Sent To China From Guam It Is Announced

WILL MAKE ABOUT 5,000 TOTAL IN CHINA

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—(INS)—The U. S. Marines were thrown into the breach again today in the evacuation of Americans from China while officials pondered a new course in dealing with the Nanking government.

A 1,250-man force of leathernecks will leave Guam Tuesday to reinforce the United States garrison in Tsingtao and help remove endangered American citizens.

More than 4,500 civilians whose presence no longer is compelled in the strife-torn land were gathering at the port by plane from areas where Communist advances may threaten their safety.

Secretary of Defense Forrestal declined to answer questions regarding possibility of the Marines engaging in combat. Michael J. McDermott, spokesman for the state department said he could not say whether the Marines would fight or withdraw if the Communists advanced into Tsingtao. He observed: "It all depends on circumstances."

To Aid Evacuation Work

Two transports also are being dispatched to China to aid in the evacuation work. One of these will arrive at Shanghai today, a second tomorrow.

The additional Marines being sent to China will bring the total now there to about 4,850.

These developments on the military side evidenced the outburst of concern which prevails in official circles following the debacle whereby the Communists have taken all of Manchuris and now threaten northern China.

The battle now raging around Suchow may determine whether

Some Hope For Early Peace In Shipping Strike

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—(INS)—Prospects of early peace in the Atlantic coast longshoremen strike brightened today when federal conciliators reported both sides "very cooperative" in settlement talks.

The government mediators were scheduled to confer with officials of the striking AFL International Longshoremen's Association and then meet with John V. Lyon, head of the employers 'committee, of ship owners.

The two conferences were preparatory to the first joint meeting of the two sides tomorrow.

This meeting, the first since the strike began as a wildcat walkout nine days ago, was arranged by Mediator William N. Margolis within hours after he flew to New York from Washington.

The urgency of the situation was highlighted by the staggering impact of the strike on New York city's life, with layoffs spreading at an alarming rate.

Rev. Gaiser Is Heard By Kiwanis

Pastor Of First Methodist Church Speaks To Fellow Kiwanians And Ladies

Rev. James A. Gaiser, pastor of the First Methodist church, told fellow Kiwanians and the Ladies of Kiwanis, who were their guests, some of the experiences he had in Europe this summer, when he spoke at the weekly luncheon meeting of the club in The Castleton.

Rev. Gaiser's talk was along the same vein as that he has given before other bodies recently, and pointed out the extreme want of the people in Europe, particularly those displaced persons, who are living in huge camps, and barely subsisting.

The only hope of these people lies in the aid extended by America, he stated. In conclusion, he expressed the hope that the conferences between the various nations now occupying Germany would be continued, and that a satisfactory basis for peace would be arrived at. It would be tragic if another war would come at the present time, he stated.

CONTINUE HEARING ON LOCAL CANAL PROJECT

Army engineer in Pittsburgh, prepared a "biased" report favorable to the canal. He pointed out that Col. Lorence is now executive vice president of the Ohio Valley Improvement Assn., which favors the project.

O. S. Barrett, president of the association which has headquarters in Cincinnati, defended Col. Lorence in an informal comment preceding his formal statement.

Col. Lorence, Barrett said, had not been contacted in any way by his association and did not know that he was under consideration for his $12,000 a year job until after he had resigned from the Army.

Key Speaker

A key speaker in favor of the canal Wednesday was Fenton Turck Jr., New York consulting engineer.

Turck displayed a series of charts and graphs in support of his contention that the canal is necessary to prevent the Pittsburgh-Youngstown-Cleveland district from slipping industrially and economically.

Frank Purnell, president of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co., led a parade of businessmen from the Youngstown area who advocate the waterway. He said the canal has "justified merit".

Other speakers Wednesday included August G. Guthiem, a Washington attorney, who testified on rail rates as they affect the Youngstown area, F. W. Funk, chief engineer of the Ohio Edison Co., of Akron, who said the canal would cut the cost of coal at Mahoning valley power plants; and Dr. George W. White, University of Illinois geologist, who said that a dam and a lake—part of the proposed canal route—would "hold water."

The Upper Ohio Valley Assn., representing railroad interests and a number of Pittsburgh business firms, is leading the opposition to the project. This group contends that the canal would take business away from the railroads, and that the project will cost much more than the estimated $479,000,000.

Official. Brice 492, Hensley 138. Return board, Brice 492, Hensley 138. No gain for either.

The count of the second precinct of the eighth ward was still on at noon. The return board had given Brice 139 and Hensley 310. Apparently Brice will gain a few in this precinct as he already had 141 with only two thirds of the box counted.

Deposits Forfeited

Four deposits of $50 each were ordered forfeited to the county by Judges W. Walter Braham and John G. Lamoree, and two ordered returned.

In the first and fourth precincts of the first ward, the court ruled substantial error had been found and ordered the $50 deposit in each case returned.

In the 3rd, 6th, 7th and 8th precincts of the second ward the court ruled that no substantial error had been found and ordered the $50 deposits forfeited to the county.

The count should be finished early this afternoon and the indications at noon were that Brice would win by a majority of between 16 and 20.

the defenses of the north can be breached, in which case Nanking itself would be threatened. The capital, in that case, is expected to be moved, possibly to Chunking, where Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek held forth during the war.

On its determination, too, may hinge future United States policy.

The very presence of the Marines in China arouses the fear that Russia might decide that this was military backing for Chiang and to give full military support to the Communists. Thus a dynamite laden situation might develop.

The entire problem will be surveyed early next week when Secretary of State Marshall returns from Paris for consultation with President Truman.

BODY OF MISSING NEW JERSEY NURSE FOUND BY HUNTERS

nurse's address book. This was only two miles from where the body was found.

Bludgeoned To Death

The body was clad in a yellow raincoat and ballet slippers still were on her feet. A bronze bracelet was on the wrist, and a handkerchief gag was stuffed in the victim's mouth.

The hunt for the girl had centered in New Hampshire after she left Newton, Conn., where she was employed, for a visit to Maine. She had told friends she was going to New Hampshire for a reunion in Milton Mills with a youth she called her "boy friend". This was to be followed by a hike up Mt. Chocorua.

Investigators said there appeared little doubt that the fun-loving girl had been lured to the spot and then bludgeoned to death.

New Hampshire state pathologists said they would make a complete examination of the body, but police and the hunters who saw the body said the head had been beaten in.

Miss Eisenberg had been employed as a nurse at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Drury in Newtown.

TOWNSHIPS MAY IMPOSE WAGE TAX

Shenango township has already been prepared and it is understood Neshannock township will have its resolution ready shortly.

When and if the township school boards pass the ten mill wage tax levies, the matter of whether or not New Castle can collect the levy from residents of townships working in New Castle will probably wind up in the state supreme court.

City Solicitor Robert M. White has said that a wage tax levied upon residents of townships would not offset the ten mill levy in New Castle and that township residents would have to pay the New Castle levy, if they work in the city.

Mr. White bases his opinion upon Section 5, paragraph 2 of Act 481, adopted June 25, 1947. The paragraph reads as follows:

"Payment of any tax on salaries, wages, commissions or other compensation or on net profits of businesses, professions or other activities pursuant to an ordinance or resolution passed or adopted under the authority of this act shall be credited to and allowed as a deduction from the liability of such persons for any other like tax respectively on salaries, wages or commissions, professions or other compensation or on net profits on businesses, professions or other activities imposed by any other political subdivision of this commonwealth under the authority of this act".

'Like Tax'

Mr. White holds that a tax levied by a township school board is not a "like" tax and therefore is not deductible from the tax levied in New Castle, inasmuch as the city's tax is levied for general city purposes and the school tax, if levied, would be for educational purposes.

Section one of the act provides authority for all classes of cities, towns, boros, townships of the first class, and school districts of the second, third and fourth class to levy taxes for "general purposes."

Counsel for one of the townships asserted today that the school tax levied upon wages would be a "like" tax and therefore would be deductible from the tax returns of the taxpayer residing in the township, but working in the city. In other words, one would cancel the other where the levies were equal.

The statement was made that when and if the township school boards levy the wage tax, they would carry the matter to the state supreme court if the city attempts to collect it also from the same persons.

The defense secretary's future in the new Truman administration was pushed into the background by rapidly developing problems of world importance in the Far East. It was taken for granted that Forrestal's services will be of top importance in the present situation.

Forrestal announced at a news conference yesterday that an additional 1,000 marines will be sent to China to protect United States nationals. Troop ships are being assigned to evacuate Americans from the Communist-threatened areas.

EYEING THE COURT?

It may or may not be true that President Truman is thinking of reaching into the Supreme Court for men to staff his revamped cabinet. He has been keeping his tongue well guarded since election day and this rumor may be nothing more than a product of the assumption that, to solve his problem, he must consider all possibilities.

That assumption is, of course, perfectly reasonable—provided the assumptions it rests on are valid. If Secretary of State Marshall wants to retire, for example, the President might wish to put Chief Justice Vinson in his place. And if the President would prefer someone for the Interior Department who has more political appeal than Secretary Krug, he is likely to recall that Justice Douglas is popular in certain Democratic circles.

Besides the President has let it be known that as leader of his party he intends to build t up. Those close to him have said that he is not interested in running again in 1952. It could be in his mind that it would be a good stroke to put Chief Justice Vinson in a position where his experience would be a greater Democratic asset than they are now—and might make him available for the presidency four years from now. Similar though not quite the same considerations might apply to the case of Justice Douglas.

But it is not at all certain that the President has done more than toy with the notion of going to the Supreme Court for cabinet material. He knows that he would invite criticism if he did. He would be open to the charge of "raiding" the highest tribunal, contrary to sound public policy and the best interests of the nation. Certainly it would be a sad day for the country if an appointment to that body should come to be merely a stepping stone to something else.

SHOULD BAR STRIKES TYING UP ARMY SUPPLIES

Strike of longshoremen along the Atlantic Coast, matching a West Coast walkout in progress for some time, once more emphasizes the need for a method of preventing long work stoppages which are manifestly injurious to the Nation's welfare.

The significant aspect of this stoppage is not that it has affected the loading and unloading of passenger ships, inconvenient as that is. What is serious is the interference with the shipment of cargoes of increasing importance to the Nation's foreign policy.

Officials of the Economic Cooperation Administration are rightly concerned over the shutdown on shipments under the Marshall Plan, at a time when American aid that program is beginning to show encouraging results. A long strike, tying up this cargo, would dangerously hamper our efforts to spur Europe's economic recovery.

So far, the dock workers have refused to load the ships with Marshall Plan goods. Even less defensible, however, is the refusal of workers to accede to requests to go through with loading of cargoes destined for use of the Army overseas.

This is a point which should engage the attention of Congress in any revision or modification of the Taft-Hartley law. Blocking shipments for the Army, in the present state of international tension, is a definite threat to the Nation's security. It is essential that the flow of supplies to the Army be maintained, and interference with it should be prohibited.

Along with that ban, Congress should enlist the help of both labor and management in working out fair, effective procedures to forestall such costly stoppages as the present dock strike.

For the Dixiecrats all is lost save honor. For Henry Wallace all is lost.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

The appeal of Trygve Lie and Herbert V. Evatt for an early Big Four meeting on the Berlin crisis was filed away today as perhaps something of a diplomatic blunder.

President Truman, supported by Great Britain and France at least in principle, reaffirmed in strongest possible terms that the United States will not negotiate until the Soviet blockade of the German capital is lifted.

Why Was Effort Made?

The question arises immediately as to why Evatt and Lie sent their appeal to the Big Four leaders in the first place.

It was made clear by Secretary of State Marshall that the Russians had unleashed a big propaganda peace offensive. He emphasized that anything said or done to encourage belief in early direct negotiations was dangerous to America„ foreign policy.

He pointed out that it was designed to weaken determination on the parts of the United States to proceed at a full clip with all steps necessary to embolden western Europe in a crusade against Communism.

Marshall's strong statement, now coupled with President Truman's emphatic declaration, make it clear that if Evatt and Lie had consulted high U. S. sources in advance the uselessness of their appeal under present circumstances would have become apparent.

Aid To Russia

Equally obvious in advance was the fact that Soviet Russia would seize eagerly upon the appeal as alleged proof of their contention that direct Big Four negotiations are essential to peace.

Therefore the Evatt-Lie note had the inevitable result of supplying the Kremlin with an instrument of propaganda of which they will make full use.

Te answer of the U. S. and Britain to any and all attempts to alter their stand on Berlin has been a simple promise that the airlift will continue unimpeded. As long as it does the Russian blockade is nothing but a nuisance at the present although a potential danger for the future.

This gigantic aerial operation now is moving into its final testing phase.

Flights Hampered

During the last week flights of coal and food into Berlin have been hampered by fog. This troublesome weather condition will grow worse as the winter progresses.

To meet the drawback, the allies are sending larger planes into action and are widening the use of the ground control approach system which is designed to enable safe landings in any weather.

But while the daily tonnage listing has begun to show a marked decline, allied authorities remain completely convinced that the airlift will be continued.

More than a month's reserve of supplies had been flown in ebfore the fog began to become a really troublesome factor. And the airlift arsenal of planes is increasing in such a manner that each fresh break in the weather allows sufficient additional flights to make up for earlier deficiencies.

One helpful aspect is that Gens. Lucius D. Clay and Curtis Le May designed the whole airlift in such a manner that the vitally important loading and unloading cannot be affected by atmospheric conditions.

Emergency buildings of all sizes and types, ingenious machinery and fleets of trucks have raised the operation to a stage where nothing less than an earthquake could upset the ground operations.

This more important than it

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

REQUIRED MUSIC PRACTICE NOT HARMFUL

Influenced by some of the prevailing philosophies of education, many parents, most parents, perhaps, have the notion that if a child be required to do something, like practicing music lessons, he will in later life hate the thing he once was made to do. And they can cite some cases which fit into the notion. They, may, indeed, relate their own experiences in confirmation. But if you ask them to name some youths or adults highly skilled at playing a musical instrument, who were not required by their parents' to practice, they may be stumped.

Granted that some children do learn to hate playing a certain musical instrument at which they had been required to practice for weeks, months and even years, who can be sure this hatred grew solely out of the child's having been required to practice? Let us consider the many customary factors connected with the requirement. Was the requirement of such nature that there arose no doubts or arguments over the matter? Was there easy ways for the child to escape the requirement?

During Practice Period

When the child who is made to practice is told each day when to go at it, when there is constant jawing even during the practice periods, with constant irritations between the child and parents; and when the resisting child finds ways of merely going through the motions of practicing and filling in the time, he won't make much progress at cultivating playing skill. In such event, the practicing may grow more drudgerous, since there is practically no skill achievement and therefore no satisfaction to lessen the resistances.

But when the child with fair or more than average music talent keeps practicing in accordance with reasonable standards of accuracy, he inevitably grows in skill and feels he is achieving. Through awareness of this achievement comes inexorable satisfaction and this satisfaction may, in comparison, reduce his distaste. It's this possible satisfaction from achievement that has been overlooked not only by many parents but by many philosophers of education also.

Needless Doubts

Something more has been overlooked—the needless doubts to the child and irritations and arguments with his requiring parents. Here again the so-called expert has made it hard for parents. He has not given parents a workable program of control and endowment. Yet this child must have some respect for authority before he will do what he is told to do. There must be available an effective penalty—and it won't be jawing—to enforce requirement.

For this penalty I have suggested requiring the recalcitrant child to sit doing nothing and without amusement for twice as long as good practice of the music lesson would take, for each delinquency. Back of this the child must have learned from much earlier experience that it would be very painful to leave the chair before the time is served. Let parents of the tot prepare him now to profit from such penalties, which may be desirable later.

Looking At Life

By Erich Brandeis

Please believe me when I say that this is not a free advertisement for the newspaper in which this column appears, nor for newspapers in general.

But I do want to tell you how much of that so-called "human interest" element there is in your newspaper if you will only look for it and give its contents more than usual, the cursory going-over.

Before me, for instance, is this morning's paper.

The whole thing is only four inches wide and three inches deep.

Yet in those 12 square inches there is almost every human emotion that you or anyone else will experience in a lifetime.

Let me quote a few of the items. I am going to leave out last names, of course, because no useful purpose would be served in mentioning them.

"The partnership of Isadore G. and Harold C. is dissolved and Isadore G. will continue operation of the Soandso Cotton Shop."

That's business trouble, and so is this one:

"William F. is not now and has not been connected for a number of years with F. Brothers, who have their business at 00 Bowery, New York.

I don't have to tell you what this one is:

"Rose S., my wife, having separated from my bed and board, I will no longer be responsible for any debts incurred by her."

Or this one:

"Max: Please come home. Your family needs you. Your wife Lena and Edith, Buddy and Dotty."

I wonder what this one means—but I think a whole magazine story might be written with its background as a plot:

"Dear Helene: Please call or write me. Your teacher, Mrs. S."

These deal with the troubles and heartaches of humans.

Here are a few others that are less sad, yet significant of human nature:

"Shrimp, cooked and peeled; small, delicious, tender, deep Gulf, no iodine flavor, fresh frozen, solid meat, 5 lbs. gallon cans; 24 hours."

And I wonder what's in back of this one:

"Large house wanted (white elephant variety). Non-frame construction. Minimum 12 rooms."

But here is the one that really provoked this column.

"Wanted: Another chance! Veteran, 32, married, 3 children, college, sales, credits, collection, accounting background; developed; directed 4 million annual volume branch office, supervised eight branches.

"Made one serious mistake, desires permanent opportunity exchange for loyalty, experience, hard work."

Can't you see in your mind's eye—?

But why philosophize about what's in any paper?

There are human beings and human emotions in your paper, too.

Washington Calling

(By Marquis Childs)

Greece And China Are Problems

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—In the struggle against world Communism, China and Greece are two focal points that illustrate the difficulties of the United States' position with startling clarity. They are properly linked together, the big and the little, since they are actually one and the same riddle.

Greece is so small a country that a few hundred million dollars from America can prop up a weak government and prevent the disaster of Communist dictatorship. To date, that is all the American intervention has achieved.

China is so vast and the need is so great that even if tens of billions of dollars had been expended during the past two and a half years, the tragedy, that now seems to be approaching a culmination, might not have been prevented. More material and a more energetic China policy probably only would have sustained the Chiang Kai-shek government for a longer time.

But back of this process of merely buying time are grim realities that will not be denied. In Greece there is still the opportunity to come to grips with those realities. In this connection an authority with a right to speak has just published a book which gets at the heart of the matter more nearly than anyone else has done to date. Colonel C. M. Woodhouse, whose "Apple of Discord" has been brought out in England, was commander of the Allied military mission to the Greek guerrilla forces through the war.

Cannot Be Dismissed

Colonel Woodhouse's opinions cannot be dismissed by the Athens politicians as those of a "Red". He is a member of the Conservative party and in the war's aftermath, he was one of Winston Churchill's chief advisers on Greece. He has gone through the trial and torment of the Greek people for the past seven years and he sees it with the detachment of an expert who nevertheless has a deep feeling for the people themselves.

What emerges from his book, and one can hope it will be published in this country at once, is that the government of Athens is a fiction. With its cabinet crises, its passionate constitutional quarrels, it is an unreal drama that unfolds in a kind of political Shangri-La.

For the problems in Greece, Woodhouse says, "are organic rather than political". While the unreal drama is played out on the Athens stage, a desperately poor and superstitious peasantry is starving to death.

United States aid has kept this drama in being. Without it there would in all probability, in Colonel Woodhouse's view, have been first a dictatorship of the right to be followed fairly shortly by a dictatorship of the Communist left.

But American patience and American dollars will not continue forever merely as a prop for things as they are and the unreality of the Athens debating society. The future presents a limited choice.

Perhaps the only alternative is to pour in aid on a much larger scale in an effort to revitalize Greece by building TVAs and developing new resources. This is the prescription of several missions that have visited the country.

If we were to do that, and we certainly are not doing it now, then we would have to decide what instruments to work with in Greece.

More Suppression

The answer of the Athens government to starvation, unrest and the encroachments of Communism has for the most part been more suppression and that merely feeds the flame of dissension and civil war. Colonel Woodhouse goes a step further in his friendly yet critical analysis of the United

From Me To You

By MESEEALL

It has been said by some . . . in a financial way, there are two kinds of people . . . One group thinks either in terms of cents or a thousand dollars . . . In their opinion a dollar is too much for anything, but 98 cents is all right. Such people can also comprehend a thousand dollars, and it is often easier to take that much away from them than to get them to part with two cents.

* * *

In another group are the people to whom any sum under a hundred thousand dollars is reasonable. They convince themselves that an honest man might earn that much in a year. But a million dollars is a staggering sum to these people and they don't care what happens to a man who has that much money.

* * *

When we come to a billion, nobody seems to know how much money that is. Consequently the national budget is comprehensible to few, if any . . . It's about as easy for Congress to persuade the nation to accept a budget of fifty billion as to get approval for thirty billion . . . Perhaps that is why it is so difficult to arouse indignation over astronomical appropriations.

* * *

Apply the above reasoning to the taxing bodies here in our own little community . . . and don't pin your thinking down to one body of directors.

* * *

And lest we not forget may we offer two questions . . . in the hope your memory might be refreshened . . . as ours was when it was brought before us. How many women remember when they stood in line half an hour or more to buy a single pair of nylons that were the wrong size? . . . How many men remember when they had to turn in the old tube before they could buy more shaving cream?

* * *

Friday of this week . . . November 19th . . . will be the 85th anniversary of that famous Gettysburg Address by Lincoln . . . let's read it and do some thinking.

Just Folks

HOME FOR CHILDHOOD

How make the home a happy spot?
I'd venture at the start
'Tis not from things delight is got,
But from the human heart.
If children are not loved at home,
But often frowned away,
It won't be long before they roam
Afar their games to play.

Who lacks the heart for childhood's noise,
And orders it to cease,
The children's love of home destroys
For temporary peace.
Who will not let them tramp the grass,
And use it for their play,
Loves more a lawn than boy or lass—
A fearful thing to say!—

Who gives to carpets greater care
Than childhood's every need
May drive the youngsters off to where
From scolding they are freed)
The happy home where laughter rings
From roof to cellar floor
Comes not from cherishing its things,
But loving children more.

BIBLE THOUGHT

Take, my brethren, the prophets, who have spoken in the name of the Lord, for an example of suffering affliction, and of patience. Behold, we count them happy which endure. Ye have heard of the patience of Job, and have seen the end of the Lord; that the Lord is very pitiful, and of tender mercy.—Jas. 5: 10, 11.

Anent Designers Of Autos

By PAUL GALLICO

The other evening at one of the newsreel theaters I saw some film reports on automobile designs of the future which looked hopeful, in particular a little feller, a stream-lined, three-wheel job with a built-in automatic jack that at the push of a button raised the whole danged contraption off the road when a tire went blooie.

But what I admired the most about some of the weird-looking models they rolled out onto the California roads was that you could see out of them.

I would like very much to get a look inside the heads of the designers of this year's car models and see what if anything was inside of them that led them to present us with heaps featuring a lot of waste tin piled up in front of the driver and cutting down his visibility to the lowest that I can remember in any year of style and design.

Most All Look Alike

What flabbergasts me is that with one or two exceptions all the cars of today look alike and appear to have the same handicaps, almost as though the designers for the various companies had been meeting for lunch or had been up to some cloak-and-dagger work pinching one another's designs.

Last week I turned in my old jalopy, a rakish affair that had been doing service since 1940, in order to get on the list for delivery of a new one next spring. The old car had some lines. Looking out over the hood one could see at least a part of the road, a smidgin of the right fender, enough at least to avoid smacking something when passing or parking, particularly when equipped with a fender guide.

Since in feature columns of this kind we do not mention commercial names, I can only say that the make of car I have been buying and driving for years had a distinctive line and design that set it apart from all the others. This year it looks like all the others head-on—like a Pekingese with a mouthful of chromium false teeth.

Real Shock Experienced

But the real shock was reserved when I climbed in behind the steering wheel of a current model to get some idea of what would be facing me next year. Ahead of me loomed a vast expanse of glistening painted tin, ideal for catching sun glare, but otherwise useless as far as I could make out because if you put all the engine there was room for under that hood you could use it to pull a freight train, and you would go broke buying fuel for it.

Road visibility was, in my opinion, reduced to the danger point and on the right side one could see nothing at all but the slope of the vast expanse of hood, no indication where it began or ended, nothing to tell one how far one was from the curb or objects on that side. Added to this, the seat was set low, giving one the feeling of having to crane one's neck to see over a barrier while driving.

Makes Complaint

When I complained bitterly to the sales manager of the company retailing these cars he said: "I know, I know. You're not the only one. Everybody's hollering. But do you think the company ever asks us what people want in a car? They just make 'em and give 'em to us to sell. I don't know where the manufacturer gets his ideas of what the driver wants, but who knows better than we? We get the squawks. A fellow like you comes in, sits down behind the wheel and starts to yell his head off and the best he can get out of it is, 'Take it or leave it'."

Aqueous control, schleppomatic drive, triple-elbow action, jet-flow dyna-action and all the rest of the motor-makers' gobbledegook is no substitute in my outraged opinion for an automobile in which at all times and under all conditions i can see where I am going and what I am doing. I don't give a darn about the radio, the telephone, the television set or the push-button windows. Will you boys in Detroit please concentrate on making me something that looks like an automobile and at the same time is practical to drive and park under traffic conditions of today and tomorrow?

In America, some years later, he organized a band and was featured in a Hollywood cafe and later at the Cocoanut Grove. Cugat's band now has tripled in size and Cugat himself is the Rhumba King who has made America samba conscious. Cugat an excellent cartoonist and caricaturist, now works for a motion picture studio.

After that he was treasurer of a battery company, a department manager of a mail order house, a gold miner, storekeeper, cowboy and press correspondent. Burroughs wrote Tarzan of the Apes, first of a long series in 1914. His home is at Encino, Cal., with his office at Tarzana, Cal.

The World and the Mud Puddles

WHERE IS THE 'BIG STICK'?

Perhaps the core of Soviet contempt for the United States as exemplified in the Berlin situation—as well as its attitude toward co-operation with the western powers in Europe generally—is revealed in a recent utterance of Molotov. In substance the Soviet minister says that since it can no longer be hidden that the United States is in no position to guarantee immediate military aid, in the form of arms and munitions, to the pro-western European nations, and will not be for years to come, Britain and the Benelux powers have come to agree that the United States must be persuaded to resume the four-power talks concerning Germany.

Fundamental Weakness

The Soviets seem to have put their finger on the fundamental weakness of our position with regard to Germany and Europe in general. We cannot guarantee anything like military support in the new organization of European anti-Soviet nations. Even if we could do so, there is little probability that the American people would sanction such a program, in view of the vast sums we already have guaranteed for economic relief. Naturally, the Soviets discount most of our contentions, for the simple reason that they are well aware that we are not, so far as Europe is concerned, in any shape to back them up by force.

No Wish To Risk Conflict

Even with a certain amount of military aid from this country, the anti-Soviet combination of states has no wish to risk conflict with Soviet Russia, either on their part or the part of the United States. Although they might profess and undertake neutrality, in case of a Russian-American struggle, they would find themselves "in the middle" and bearing a large part of the brunt of the war. They doubtless are skeptical of the necessity or justice of any war over the issuing of feeding some two million of their former enemies in the Berlin area—as many Americans may be.

While it is fruitless now to recall the original source of our present troubles—not only in

WHY NOT TRY THIS?

Sharing the Interestin Jobs

Most of us know that children like to help Mom or Dad with their work. They want to be a real part of the grown-up world and one good way is to do the things that make them feel grown up.

When youngsters first begin to help in the kitchen or at Dad's work bench, they may be quite happy just helping. The little jobs of holding something while fathef nails it or of putting away the dishes are satisfying. Soon, however, they want to be allowed to do some of the more complicated and interesting things.

In the kitchen some simple cooking can be entrusted to Susan or Billy. When Dad is making a set of shelves for the house, the youngster interested in helping should be graduated from merely "holding" to some of the measuring, the turning of the screws or other more complicated parts of the job.

At first parents may find it a bit difficult to permit children to take over the more interesting parts of a job. We know that the youngsters aren't likely to do them so well at first. But such a policy pays dividends in the growth of interest in helping and in the fine sense of "doing" that comes to them.

Recover Body Of Woman Suicide

DONORA, Pa., Nov. 18.—(INS)—The coroner's office said today that the body of a woman found in the Monongahela river at East Monongahela has been identified as that of Mrs. Amelia Kelly, 66, of Donora.

The identification was made by her son, Thomas W. Kelly of Donora. Coroners deputies said Kelly was satisfied that his mother had not been slain.

An autopsy Wednesday showed death was due to "asphyxiation due to strangulation and drowning".

The son told investigators that his mother had been despondent since the death of her husband, Thomas H. Kelly, two months ago, and had said several times she wished she were dead.

Fraternal Congress Names Pittsburgher

SCRANTON, Pa., Nov. 18.—(INS)—Stephen M. Tkatch of Pittsburgh today headed the Pennsylvania Fraternal Congress at the close of the organization's annual meeting at Scranton.

Retiring President John Eibeck of Pittsburgh was elected to the executive committee by delegates.

Miss Louis Patrick of Philadelphia was re-elected secretary.

Milk Production Continues Decline

HARRISBURG, Nov. 18.—(INS)—The State Agriculture Department today reported Pennsylvania milk production continued a seasonal decline during October when the output totaled 433,000,000 pounds.

Production was three per cent under that of September and one per cent under the output of October, 1947.

Declining feed prices encouraged farmers to feed cows more grain resulting in a record average production of 17.2 pounds of milk per cow per day on November 1, the department said.

Inadequate rainfall and several nights of freezing temperatures cut pasture feeding.

Fear 500 Drowned As Boat Capsizes In Ganges River

CALCUTTA, Nov. 18.—(INS)—Some 500 persons were feared drowned today when a loaded steamer capsized in the Ganges river near Patna, Bihar province, India.

The steamer was carrying both passengers and cattle from the Sonepur fair.

Sonepur is situated just across the river from Patna, at the junction of the Ganges and Gandak rivers.

Word from the disaster scene reported that as the steamer approached its berth it listed heavily because passengers rushed to one side of the lower deck.

The craft then capsized.

Urges Cooperation Against Accidents

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—(INS)—Major General Philip B. Fleming, chairman of President Truman's Highway Safety Conference, urged closer cooperation today between state and local communities in the prevention of highway accidents.

Fleming, administrator of the Federal Works Agency, told the 13th annual highway and vehicle during the decade 1936-45 fatality rates averaged 12 deaths per hundred million vehicle miles. He added:

"We got that rate down to 8.6 for the year 1947. We did still better in the first quarter of 1948 and recent estimates put the rate below 7.

Poetry In The Bible Exalts God

SONGS OF PRAISE ARE SUNG TO JEHOVAH

The good shepherd.

"The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want."—Psalm 23:1.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

Poetry is defined in the dictionary as "a metrical composition produced or embellished by creative imagination"; or, as someone has said, "verbal composition, imaginative and concrete in matter, and emotional and rhythmic in form."

Poets are inspired by feelings of beauty, by love, grief or a desire to praise, or even humor, as in the beloved, diverting lines of Lewis Carroll. Poems are often set to music, and we sing them when we are happy, when, in church or Sunday school, we want to praise the Lord, the Creator.

The poetry of the Bible is not expressed in rhyme, and modern poetry is often written in like manner—in beauty of phrase and thought, but not necessarily in what we call rhyme.

There is what is called philosophical poetry in our Bible, as in the Book of Job; lyrical poetry that expresses emotions and experiences, as in the Psalms; songs of praise to Jehovah for His goodness, as in the rejoicing of the two mothers, Hannah and Mary, mothers of Samuel and Jesus, which are part of our lesson today. There are also songs of despair as well as of hope, in the writings of the prophets.

You will recall Jehovah's promise of a son to Hannah, wife of Elkanah, who prayed for a child, and her promise to give him to the Lord. True to her word, when her child Samuel was born, Hannah took him to Eli, prophet of God, and then she fell on her knees, praising God for His goodness.

After the Angel Gabriel had visited Mary, a humble maiden, and announced that she would be the mother of Christ, Mary too sang praises to God for selecting her above all women for this infinite honor. Her exquisite song of praise is called the Magnificat, from which our word magnificent comes. It is an enlargement of the song Hannah sung to Jehovah hundreds of years before Mary's time. Mary thanked the Lord for remembering those of low degree, the hungry, the humble, and for scattering the proud, the mighty and the rich.

David's lamentation over Saul and Jonathan who were slain in battle with the Philistines, is beautiful poetry—"The beauty of Israel is slain upon Thy high places: how are the mighty fallen!"

David forgot or forgave Saul for the years when his enemy sought his life, and remembered only that at one time Saul was his friend. Of his friend Jonathan, who had stood by him in al his troubles, David cry was: "I am distressed for thee, my brother Jonathan: very pleasant hast thou been unto me: thy love to me was wonderful, passing the love of women."

The 23rd, 24th and 136th Psalms are songs of recognition of the care the Lord gives His people, and the comfort that knowledge gives.

He maketh me to lie down in green pastures;
He leadeth me beside the still waters.
He restoreth my soul:
He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake.
Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil; for Thou art with me;
Thy rod and Thy staff, they comfort me. . . .
Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life;
And I shall live in the house of the Lord forever.

The 24th Psalm begins:

The earth is the Lord's, and the fullness thereof;
The world, and they that dwell therein.
For He hath founded it upon the seas,
And established it upon the floods.

The 136th Psalm is a pure song of thanksgiving:

O give thanks unto the Lord; for He is good;
For His mercy endureth forever.

It recites the release of the Israelites from bondage in Egypt, and all the blessings enjoyed by them thereafter, with the refrain, For His mercy endureth forever.

Even in adversity, the prophets called upon their God in poetical language, recounting the miseries of His people, as in the Book of Lamentations, or praise in the midst of trouble, as in Habakkuk.

'Revitalization' Of GOP Is Urged By Governor Duff

HARRISBURG, Nov. 18.—(INS)—Gov. James H. Duff on Wednesday called for "revitalization" of the Republican party.

He told delegates to the 28th annual convention of the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women that the party should gear policies "more to the thoughts and aspirations of the average American."

His direct slap at the old line organization was in line with his political policy since Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, whose candidacy he opposed at the GOP national convention, was defeated in the general election.

The governor said he based his proposal "on the confident belief that the average American—when he knows the facts—will do the right thing."

He pointed out that what he called the traditional political pattern found Republicans siding with business and Democrats aligned with labor.

"In the long run this is a bad pattern for the country," Duff declared. "For if the great advantages all Americans enjoy are to continue very long we must be able to achieve a better and more just balance between these great forces that now dominate and control our economy.

"Both sides must be given to understand that in their disputes the great and prime consideration must always be the safety, health and welfare of the general public and that all other considerations are subordinate to the public welfare."

Governor Duff said the average American "is satisfied with his country" but demands a square deal.

"The policy of doing the best for the most people," he asserted, "will be the kind of government that will be good for both management and labor.

"If management and labor do not think so they must be made to readjust their ideas with strong public opinion; because when all is said, governmental response to public opinion is really what makes our way of life better than what any other nation has to offer."

Earlier, the council adopted resolutions endorsing Duff's conservation, stream clearance, flood control and health programs and urged "an aggressive program" for the solution of labor problems.

Removal of members of boards of education from politics was urged by the council.

Election Day was proposed as a holiday for all schools and colleges in another resolution to "impress" students with the national heritage of the free ballot.

The council approved a resolution calling for the legislature to change the inaugural date for governors to the first Tuesday in January to expedite the General Assembly's work.

Speedy passage of the veterans bonus proposal was demanded in another resolution along with a "forthright approach" to the housing problem of ex-servicemen and simplification of the distribution of aid to needy veterans.

Closer cooperation between labor and management and simplification of federal organization and procedure was recommended along with continued development of bipartisan foreign policy.

The resolutions report was submitted by Mrs. Helen Schluraff of Erie, nominated president without opposition to succeed Mrs. Meade D. Detweiler, of Harrisburg.

Sees New Economy For Europe's Future

Head Of European Recovery Pictures Brilliant Era Ahead For Europeans

CINCINNATI, Nov. 18.—(INS)—Marshall Plan Director Paul G. Hoffman asserted Wednesday that despite the Communist threat that people of Europe "have their most brilliant era in front of them."

Hoffman declared that the Economic Cooperation Administration "can be the catalytic agent which will help bring about the post-war transition from despair to a new and vigorous economy."

Hoffman made the statement in a speech before the 67th annual convention of the American Federation of Labor.

The ECA chief, at the same time, accused French Communists of attempting to "bring the French economy to a lower plane of accomplishment" through the recent coal strike. Hoffman added that the strike was also intended to:

"Cripple the recovery program; and promote the imperialistic aims of the Kremlin dictatorship."

He said:

"Around these vicious aims they have sought to throw the protective mantle of labor's ideology. They pretended the strike was the traditional effort to secure a better standard of living for the French miners.

"In actual truth, every closed mine has brought the French closer to freezing, and closer to economic paralysis."

Hoffman declared that the cold war in Europe bears the label "made in Moscow."

WASHINGTON CALLING

States approach to Greece. He writes:

"American opinion still has to make up its mind what it is for in foreign affairs, instead of only what it is against. Anti-Communism, unqualified by positive character, has been one of the best allies of the Third International abroad. In viewing the prospects of a conflict between the U. S. S. R. and the U. S. A., Stalin could well rest satisfied in the conviction that the latter would run out of dollars before the former ran out of doctrine."

Here is where the link between China and Greece is close. We will not win the faith of people merely by propping up things as they are.

Buying time is essential, but it is also essential to know what to do with that dearly bought time.

BLOOD DISEASE

There are many different diseases of the blood. For many people blood disease means syphilis.

Syphilis is one of the most wide spread diseases. It affects the young and old, the poor and the rich.

In some people it causes no trouble at all. In others it is a terrible calamity.

It may invade any part of the body. The eyes, the ears, the heart, the arteries and the brain are often hopelessly damaged.

Fortunately doctors have tests which help to find the disease before it has caused much damage.

While the selective service tests were being made, in some places two or more men out of every hundred were found to have syphilis.

Europe, but in Korea and Manchuria—our prevailing and recent policies are a tragic contradiction of the slogan of another Roosevelt in another time: "Speak softly and carry a big stick." Even before the war's end we had begun speaking loudly and carrying a little stick. And that is no way to deal with the Soviets.

SGT. HARRY A. PAUL'S BODY BURIED AT LONG ISLAND, N. Y.

Sergeant Paul was a graduate of New Castle High school and attended Youngstown college.

appears on the surface. For when the U. S. air force took over Tempelhof airfield in Berlin it was bomb-cratered and mortar-pocked and its normal facilities had pounded into wreckage.

Now they have been remade by army engineers into a masterpiece of speed and efficiency, upon whose wheels and cogs a great deal of American prestige in Europe and the world depends.

Modernization Of State's Educational Program Urged On Legislature

By JACK WARD
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 19.—Modernization of the state's educational program was recommended to the General Assembly by a special legislative study committee.

In a 33-page report to Gov. James H. Duff and the assembly, the joint state government commission's committee on post high school education recommended 10 specific changes and additions to the state's teaching system to expand higher education.

Dr. Robert L. Johnson, Temple university president and chairman of the committee, pointed out that the "report is neither as extensive nor as intensive as was originally visioned" asked that the group be given additional time to conclude its findings.

Highlighting the report were proposals to establish "junior" or sub-professional institutions to provide two-year terminal courses, and to redefine the functions of state teachers colleges to restrict their activities in part of the education of students as elementary school teachers.

Terminal Courses

Terminal courses, it was added, should be "geared to the occupational opportunities of the community with special emphasis of the technical commercial, agricultural and home-making fields."

The committee also recommended greater recognition by Pennsylvania Medical schools of the needs of Pennsylvania residents, and proposed adoption of some formula to measure state-aid for medical education.

The Johnson Committee said 45 per cent of the students in Pennsylvania Medical schools and 48 per cent of the capacity of dental schools is utilized by out-of-state men and women.

Also high on the list of recommendations were proposals to conduct "a comprehensive study of professional schools of nursing," and further study of medical education, the extent of need for junior or community colleges and scholarship plans.

The present scholarship program is not entirely satisfactory nor adequate," the sub-committee said.

Other recommendations were:

(1) Reorganization of the state council of education to allow greater influence in determining educational policies in the state.

(2) Creation of a division of higher education in the Department of Public Instructions, directed by a deputy superintendent, to assume responsibility for leadership in post-high school education.

(3) Enactment of legislation giving the state council of education "the duty and responsibility to establish standards for extension centers" and to establish "a policy and general regulation" to control extension courses.

(4) Revisions of grants to privately controlled state-aided institutions to make them "on a basis of agreement between the state and the institutions as to the service that is to be rendered."

(5) Limit approved schools for teachers after March 1, 1952, to those meeting strict requirements.

The report stated:

"It appears all too clear that in view of the increasing demands which modern life makes upon trained intelligence, technical skill, and social understanding far too few of the youth of Pennsylvania are acquiring any part of a college education.

"When its (college) educational attainment is measured . . . Pennsylvania ranks extremely low."

Concerning teachers education, the report pointed out the great need for elementary school teachers. It emphasized that the shortage was due to opportunities in other fields, low salaries and loss in relative prestige of the teaching profession.

MEAT HYGIENE

HARRISBURG. — The meat hygience division of the Bureau of Animal Industry, State Department of Agriculture, during October examined 301 slaughtering establishments and found all in a satisfactory condition with respect to sanitation. Although 18 such establishments had been closed by October 1 of this year, none was closed during that month. For the first 10 months of this year nearly 4,500 official inspections were made.

Propose Compromise Civil Rights Issue

Southern Democrats Confident Compromise Can Be Worked Out To Avoid Split

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—(INS)—A southern Democratic leader Wednesday proposed a compromise to settle the explosive civil rights issue when congress convenes January 3.

Rep. Priest of Tennessee, who may become the house majority whip when the Democrats resume control of congress, said he is confident a compromise can be worked out that will avoid a split in Democratic ranks.

Priest, who now is chief assistant whip, proposed that the administration agree not to push enactment of legislation barring racial discrimination in employment and banning racial segregation in military sevrice.

The congressman said that if this is done he believes southern senators will agree not to filibuster against anti-lynching and anti-poll tax legislation.

Priest stated that all four points in the president's civil rights program probably could be enacted in the house. But, he added, they would run up against a southern filibuster in the senate.

In the past, this has proven fatal to civil rights legislation.

SANTINA BORDONARO, MICHAEL ROUSSOS WED

At a lovely but quiet fall wedding, Miss Santina Bordonaro, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bordonaro, of 233 Northview avenue, became the bride of Michael Roussos, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Roussos, Lyndal street, Monday morning in St. Vitus church.

Before an altar embanked with fall flowers, ferns and palms, the young couple exchanged vows at 8 a.m., Rev. Fr. Albert M. Inteso, officiating and using the double ring ceremony. A large circle of friends were in attendance at the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was charming in a white satin gown, made with sheer yoke, embroidered with pearls to form designs of tiny flowers, and long sleeves which tapered at the wrists. The tight bodice fell into a full skirt, made entrain. Her short illusion veil fell from a crown of orange blossoms, and she carried an arm bouquet of white roses centered with an orchid. As her only jewelry the bride wore a strand of pearls, a gift from her husband.

Miss Catherine Bordonaro, as her cousin's maid of honor wore a blue taffeta gown, patterned similar to the bride's. Her accessories and hat were yellow and she carried yellow tearoses.

Joseph Bordonaro, the bride's brothers, served as best man.

A congratulatory period at the church followed the ceremony, and after the wedding breakfast was served at the Sons of Italy hall. A wedding dinner was also served at the hall at 1 p.m., for a group of relatives and close friends numbering 120.

Mr. and Mrs. Roussos departed early in the afternoon on a wedding trip. They traveled by airplane to Washington, D.C., and upon their return will reside in the newly furnished apartment on Front street.

Mr. Roussos, a graduate of New Castle High school in 1943, is a professional football player with the Washington, (D. C.) Redskins. Mrs. Roussos, a graduate of Ne-Ca-Hi in 1944, is bookkeeper with the Bordonaro and Canfora Produce company. Mrs. Roussos was feted recently at a shower party given by her aunts and cousins and her many gifts received are on display at the residence of her parents.

Warning Is Given Europe By Dulles

Says American Aid May Be Withdrawn If Western Powers Cannot Get Unity

By JOHN E. LEE
(By International News Service)

PARIS, Nov. 18.—John Foster Dulles, Republican member of the United States delegation to the United Nations, warned Europe today that American aid may be withdrawn if the western powers cannot achieve unity.

Speaking before the American Club of Paris, the foreign policy spokesman of his party recalled that thrice within 30 years the United States has given men and resources to save the continent.

These, he said, were the two world wars and the economic aid being given under the Marshall plan.

Dulles disclaimed any imperialistic intention on the part of the United States. He noted that after each war American forces had departed immediately "although some now wish our troops had not gone so quickly and so fully."

The United States, he added, wants only to have a Europe with so much political strength that no power will be able to use Europe for purposes alien to the free development of Europe herself."

Disunity Makes Them Weak

While recognizing the fear which grips Europe today, Dulles argued that the population of free, western Europe, totalling 260 millions, is greater than that of either Russia or the United States.

In addition to its own natural resources, he argued, it also is close to vast natural resources in Africa.

In view of these factors, Dulles added that the European nations "ought to constitute an unassailable citadel of freedom and well being. Only disunity makes them weak."

Dulles then asserted that there should be a persistence in effort to unite Europe peacefully as great as those efforts that have been made to unit it by force.

The American people, he concluded, have ideas of their own and are like to draw unfavorable conclusions if the nations of Western Europe maintain a disunity that can be preserved only with recurrent aid from the United States. He said:

"There is a point at which transfusions cease to serve a useful purpose."

Firm Leader Seeks Understanding In Labor And Industry

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 18.—(INS)—President H W. Prentis, Jr., of the Armstrong Cork Co., said Wednesday that American business can increase productivity by establishing a sound and sympathetic understanding with labor.

The Lancaster, Pa., executive told members at the 30th annual meeting of the American Bottlers convention in Atlantic City:

"We can do much to attain this objective by painstaking selection and training of all supervisory employes; by careful production and sales planning to stabilize employment and by aiding in the provision of safeguards for unemployment, sickness, old age and death.

"It also can be accomplished by developing management from the bottom up as well as from the top down."

IN THE OPEN

Relaxed before the leaping fire, the outdoorsman takes his ease and lives over the day's stiff trek through the swampy hinterland. Bear sign had been everywhere, but bruin himself has craftily kept to the coverts, refusing to be stampeded into the panicky cross-country flight which leads past waiting riflemen.

Before turning in for the night, the careful hunter checks his gear against the next day's long foray across the timber "slashings". He makes sure that compass and matches are all present and accounted for, and stows a few candy bars into a side pocket just in case. Then he walks outside the cabin for a look at the weather and meets an old friend, the mightiest hunter of them all.

Stalking patiently across the southeastern sky, with hunting club upraised in his right hand, the great Orion has succumbed to the lure of the hunter's moon and will prowl the night watches until mid-April. The ancient star gazers saw the skin of a lion he has killed hanging from his upraised left hand. Pacing along behind are his two hunting dogs, Sirius and Procyon, eternally coursing the heavens for huntsman's trophies beyond the imagination of man.

Renew Acquaintanceship

The outdoorsman renews acquaintanceship with the red star Betelgeuse, pulsating in the right shoulder of the constellation, and with Rigel, marking the left foot, a great star 14,000 times more luminous than our sun. The hunter's head is indicated by a little triangle of stars. It seems incredible, but the full moon will fit into this triangle. In fact an aspirin tablet, held at arm's length, will blot out the moon, which seems so large against its background of pin-point stars.

Aside from the Big Dipper, perhaps no sky-grouping attracts so much attention as the three stars which make up Orion's belt. The Eskimo hunter watched them sparkle in the frosty Northern midnight and saw in them three steps cut in a snow bank by a doughty traveler. For centuries they have been known as the "three kings" to sky watchers in other lands.

The outdoorsman shines up his glasses and peers at the diamond rosette of the Pleiades, hanging just above Orion. He tries once again but is unable to make out with certainty more than six of the stars in this misty-lighted group. Sharp eyes can probably distinguish seven or eight, arranging them in the form of a tiny dipper, but most persons see only a shimmering haze surrounding the half-dozen brighter stars.

Trout Brook Chatters

A trout brook chatters happily through its sluiceway just below the cabin. Its music is much subdued from the full-throated roar of the Spring run-off, when the gamy brookies drove like flashing rainbows through the limpid pools. Somewhere out in the darkness a buck deer snorts in proud alarm, and the firelight flickering in the open cabin door provokes a barred owl to hoots of indignation.

Quite at home in that tangled swampland, a craft old black bear eased himself along through the darkness, fully aware of the wood smoke and the dreaded man smell hanging over the thickets. Daylight would find him in good position to command all approaches to his covert, ready and quite able to match wits with any single hunter. Only a noisy "drive" could shake his cunning judgment and send him crashing wildly through the undergrowth.

Now safe in the cover of the canopy of the night, the big bear rolled along a woods road to his sign tree, which marked the corner post of his woodland domain. Here, not a mile from the outdoorsman who had come out to sample the night, he clawed great disdainful challenging furrows high up on the "visitor's register," announcing to all and sundry that he was still actively in the bear business and quite able to take care of himself.

The hunter sensed that his crafty quarry was out there in the wastelands. That sixth sense which all true woodsmen possess tingled with the knowledge that an exciting day lay just ahead.

The outdoorsman knocked the dottle out of his pipe and squinted up at the heavenly twins in the constellation Gemini. Even as ancient hunters swore by Gemini many hundreds of years ago he promised himself, "By Jiminy! I'll get a crack at that big fellow tomorrow!" and stomped in to his bunk by the hemlock-shaded window.

Canal Opposed By Congressman

Rep. Fulton Asserts Two Ohio Steel Companies Will Get Most Benefit

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 18.—(INS)—Rep. James G. Fulton of Pennsylvania on Wednesday charged two big Ohio steel companies will 'get the gravy' from the proposed Ohio river-Lake Erie canal.

Testifying before the army engineers board of review for rivers and harbors in Pittsburgh, Fulton named the Republic Steel Corp. of Cleveland and Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. as the major beneficiaries of the waterways.

Fulton also demanded that the army make public exact benefits which individual industries in the Ohio valley expect to derive from the canal. When a board member said the information might be confidential, Fulton replied:

Who's To Get Gravy?"

"I want to know . . . just who is going to get the gravy from this public project. If that's confidential, I want to know it."

Although today's hearing was to be devoted to testimony of advocates of the canal from Ashtabula, O., to Beaver, Pa., Fulton was given the floor as a "congressional courtesy."

He challenged the army engineers' estimate that the canal would cost 439 million dollars, claiming the total would be "900 million or maybe even a billion dollars."

Fulton directed an attack at Col. Walter E. Lorence, former district army engineer who prepared the report urging construction of the canal. He said:

Is This The Policy?

"Col. Lorence quit his job here to become executive vice president of the Ohio Valley Improvement Association of Cincinnati, which . . . has for one of its principal objects construction of the canal...

"Is it the policy of the . . . engineers to allow a man who prepared a report on a proposal to come back later and appear as a paid advocate of the proposal he engineered?"

"When Fulton concluded his 1½-hour speech, a member of the board promised to reveal the industrial benefits Fulton had demanded, Thursday—if they are not confidential.

Air can be made to glow if it is reduced to very low pressure and if a high-voltage electrical discharge is passed through it.

Taylor Appears Certain To Win

Will Be Re-Elected As State Senate President Pro Tempore Despite Opposition

HARRISBURG, Nov. 18.—(INS)—Republican Sate Chairman M. Harvey Taylor today appeared virtually certain of being re-elected Senate president pro tempore despite the candidacy of Sen. O. J. Taliman, of Lehigh.

Republican senators will meet tomorrow at Hershey to elect a president pro tempore who will preside should Lt. Gov. Daniel B. Strickler be absent from any session of the upper chamber during the General Assembly in 1949.

The Lehigh County Republican, majority leader in the 1947 session, injected himself into the picture and Republican circles at the State Capitol speculated that he was forcing a break between Gov. James H. Duff and the forces swearing political fealty to National Committeeman G. Mason Owlett, of Wellsboro. Taliman said he would not accept the majority leader's post in 1949.

Owlett scotched the report with the announcement that "Taylor is entirely satisfactory to us."

The report had gained some credence because Duff and Owlett do not see eye to eye on some political matters, especially since the national committeeman was active on behalf of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey during the GOP national convention. Duff was opposed to Dewey's nomination.

Primitive man used stones as ornaments, munitions, tools, currency, household equipment, and some of his objects of worship.

Alienation Suit Being Aired Today In Wheeling Court

WHEELING, W. Va., Nov. 18.—(INS)—The $250,000 alienation of affections suit involving the wife of a Wheeling steel magnate is scheduled for a hearing today in circuit court in Wheeling.

The suit was brought by Mrs. Sarah H. Schnitzler, wife of a former sales manager of the steel company, against Mrs. June Carroll Krause, wife of the wealthy steel manufacturer.

Mrs. Schnitzler charges that Mrs. Krause, a 35-year-old brunette, "influenced and by unjust means" persuaded her husband, Edwin H. Schnitzler, to desert her.

In a second action scheduled to start on November 24, Ernest W. Krause, president of the Wheeling Machine Products Co., is asking $100,000 from Schnitzler, also charging love theft.

Krause charges that Schnitzler took Mrs. Krause on trips to Chicago, New York, Atlantic City and other cities. The steel man also has a divorce action pending against his wife, who formerly was his secretary.

Election Board School Needed

Board Members Believe Pre-Election Instruction Would Reduce Error

OTHER EVENTS IN COURT HOUSE

Need for a course of instruction for election boards was voiced Wednesday in the court house by members of election boards.

Said two ladies of a second ward precinct election board: "There was a time when the boards were given a short course of instruction in election procedure and I believe it would be a fine thing if this were done again."

What boxes have been opened have shown some errors but not one has shown any sign of any intentional fraud. What errors have been made are errors any other honest person might have made through lack of proper knowledge. Some errors are probably due to fatiuge after a long hard day.

ATTENDING HEARING

County Commissioner Joseph F. Travers attended the hearing on the proposed Lake Erie-Ohio river canal in Pittsburgh on Wednesday and is back again today.

Egg Production On Upward Swing

HARRISBURG, Nov. 18.—(INS)—Egg production by Pennsylvania farm flocks took an upward swing during October but remained relatively low for the season, it was reported today by the State Agriculture Department.

An increase in the number of layers sent production to 201,000,000 eggs for the month but the mark was 8,000,000 below that of October, 1947, the Department said.

Turkeys Advance

Despite the increase in layers, hens and pullets on farms totaled only 17,971,000 compared to 18,102,000 during the same month last year.

Although prices for live chickens dropped one cent to an average of 35 cents a pound, prices of live turkeys advanced two cents to 49 cents a pound and eggs went up 4½ cents to average 70.8 cents a dozen, according to the Department.

Slight declines were recorded in the price of grain and feed.

No Mandate For Planned Economy Declares Stassen

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—(INS)—Harold E. Stassen, president of the University of Pennsylvania, predicts that "temporary economic controls" will be one of the greatest dangers facing the 81st congress.

Nevertheless, he added in an address before the Economic Club of New York that he did not see the November elections as "a mandate to move on to a planned economy in America."

Stassen outlined four principal issues which he said the government would have to resolve:

1. Economic aid to Europe and Asia.
2. Re-arming the nations of western Europe.
3. Re-armament in America.
4. Humanitarian aid to the non-productive in America, including the aged, the ill and the unemployed.

Stassen proposed that Congress give serious thought to meeting the demands of this four-point program "short of war and without going into a controlled economy of a wartime pattern."

Unless price controls are clamped down Stassen said the United States this year will produce the greatest quantity of goods ever turned out by any nation and that the people will maintain the highest peacetime living standard of any country in the world.

Ford Will Light New Blast Furnace

DETROIT, Nov. 18.—(INS)—The Ford Motor Company announced that a new blast furnace capable of approximately doubling its iron production has been completed at the mammoth river Rouge plant in Detroit.

The furnace—towering as high as a 25-story building—is part of a long range scheme to minimize Ford's "dependence on the outside scrap market." It will be lighted later this week.

Ford officials said the smelter, one of the world's largest, will produce between 1,300 and 1,400 tons of iron a day—just short of the daily output of the two furnaces operating at the Rogue since the early 1920s.

Around Hollywood

By ROLAND HAYES
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 18.—Ann Sothern, generally recognized as one of the slickest chicks in movietown, also is one of the burg's biggest tomboys.

She is a topflight skier. She holds the Catalina record marlin catch for females. She shoots an eyeful-80 on the golf course, and the skeets fly to smithereens when she takes aim.

No Scanty Poses

The other day Ann refused to pose for pictures in a scanty ski outfit that some suit manufacturer wanted to drape around her frame. It was an abbreviated thing that came clear up to here.

"Look," Ann told the guy, "when I pose in anything glamorous, it's going to be a gown, but when I ski, I ski in baggy pants."

Ann gets a big boot out of watching the dolls come to some swank resort wearing the latest word in fashion.

"The first few days," she said, "They come to the ski run mascara'ed to the hilt and wearing tight, form-fitting outfits. Pretty soon the sun gets in their eyes, the mascara runs and they wind up looking like unscrubbed celebrities.

"After awhile, watching the experts, they get the idea. Then they reserve the glamour treatment strictly for evening events in the lodge."

Dresses For Occasion

For deep sea fishing Ann always sports denims, tennis sneakers, men-sized gloves and a knotted bandana; wolf whistles, she insists, only scare away the fish.

She also eschews the new look for golf. Give her a wide, action-swing skirt and leave the distracting bo-janbles at home. And she wears a sweater. (Very well, indeed!)

Ann has starred in four films the past year—"Three Wives," "The Judge Steps Out," "Words and Music" and "April Showers". At the moment she is reading scripts for three future features.

She hasn't by-passed glamour entirely. Last month she enlarged her wardrobe with 24 eye-arresting gowns.

But for sports, said Ann, "gimme Sothern comfort!"

New Car Dealers Probe Concluded

Possible Prosecutions By Three Government Agencies Has Been Set In Motion

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—(INS)—Possible prosecution by three government agencies was set in motion Wednesday by a congressional committee which has been investigating unfair trade practices by new car dealers.

Rep. Macy (R) N. Y., chairman of a special House subcommittee, announced that evidence gathered during a two-day hearing will be turned over to the Justice department, the Bureau of Internal Revenue and the corporation counsel's office in Washington for further investigation.

The committee, established to investigate "questionable trade practices," has concluded hearing testimony from two Washington car dealers which disclosed that salesmen were taking 500 tips and other "cover-up" practices.

During the testimony, the salesmen were closely questioned whether they had reported their "tips" on their income tax returns. One refused to answer on grounds that it might tend to incriminate him.

Funeral services will be conducted Sunday at 3 p. m. from the funeral home with full military honors. Interment will be in Neshannock cemetery, New Wilmington.

S/Sgt. Blake enlisted in the Army, October 29, 1943 and trained at the Greensboro, North Carolina, air base, later attending gunnery school at Tyndall Field, Panama City, Florida. He was assigned to a B24 bomber crew at the Charleston, S. C. Army Air Base. In July, 1944, he left with the 750th Armored Squadron from La Guardia Field, N. Y. for overseas. He joined the 15th airforce in Italy.

On August 7, 1944, on his second mission, his plane was shot down over Yugoslavia when four members of the crew were taken as prisoners. S/Sgt. Blake was injured and through the assistance of underground operations, was able to flee to safety. He recuperated on the Isle of Capri after joining his squadron again.

During a mission over northern Italy, during a snow storm the plane crashed into a mountain as the crew was returning from Germany where they were successful in their operations. The accident occurred on February 16, 1945, killing the entire crew.

Sgt. Blake was awarded the purple heart, the air medal with two oak leaf clusters, and the presidential unit citation.

Born in Springfield township, Mercer county, August 2, 1925, he was a son of Lester L. and Marie Cummings Blake. At the time of enlistment, he was a member of the senior class of the West Middlesex high school. He was a member of the U. P. church, West Middlesex. Surviving are his parents; one sister, Mrs. Mabel Selling and one brother, Charles E. Blake of Akron, Ohio.

Friends will be received at the funeral home Friday and Saturday evenings from seven to nine o'clock.

Johnson Triplets Will Be Ten Years Old, Friday

The Johnson triplets, Clara Mae, Gertrude Ann and Thomas Matthew Johnson, of South New Castle Boro, will reach their 10th birthday Friday, Nov. 19, and will be tendered a lovely birthday party at the Terrace Avenue school.

The children, Lawrence county's only triplets, were born November 19, 1938, in the New Castle hospital. Sister M. Borgia of the obstetrics department was in charge at that time and still is at the present time. Dr. Nathan N. Ginsburg, attending physician, has examined the children carefully several times a year every year during the past 10 years.

The children, however, are normal, happy and healthy children. Four years ago their mother passed away, and with this loss the youngsters have acquired a maturity which comes from added responsibility.

The triplets are now in the fifth grade at school. Their school instructor, Sister Imelda, is pleased with their progress in school.

Friday afternoon there will be songs and dances, with the triplets' godmother, Miss Marie Dutkiewicz, in charge. Several concerns from New Castle are donating th ecake, candy and ice cream, and all the birthday goodies. As usual, the triplets are not the only kiddies in school who are looking forward to this wonderful birthday party.

Rev. Fr. V. V. Stancelewski, the head of the school, is to attend as a guest, and also Dr. Nathan N. Ginsberg, Sister M. Borgia and Sister Mary John, superintendent of the New Castle hospital.

Merger Of All Labor Unions Is Proposed

By ROBERT VINCENT
(By International News Service)

CINCINNATI, Nov. 18. — The American Federation of Labor turned its eyes toward Portland, Ore., today for CIO reaction to a new AFL invitation to merge all labor unions into one national organization.

In a surprise move, the 700 delegates to the AFL's 67th annual convention meeting in Cleveland extended a new invitation for unity to the CIO and by inference, to John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers.

They unanimously adopted a resolution instructing the executive committee to "pursue with new vigor its efforts to bring about unity between all bona fide labor unions in our nation."

The CIO's executive committee is now meeting in Portland, where the CIO national convention begins today.

The invitation bombshelled into a jampacked AFL day which saw the convention also vote unanimously to continue its political arm, Labor's League for Political Education, "on a permanent basis and on a national and state and local level."

It is to be financed by an assessment against unions locals of ten cents per member.

Actor Is Latest Person Wounded By Mystery Sniper

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—(INS)—An actor-stage director was wounded in the back of the head early today at 53rd street and Fifth avenue—latest victim of a series of mysterious sniper attacks in New York's midtown section.

He is Leon Askin, 41, who had left the Lyceum theater, where he is playing in "Bravo" with his wife, Louise, to escort a friend to a subway station.

Pellet Under Scalp

Askin first felt a stinging pain near the base of his skull.

A patrolman was notified and Askin was taken to St. Clares hospital, where an X-ray revealed a small pellet embedded under the scalp.

Police of the West 54th street station declared that the weapon used apparently was of the same type used early last Monday in the sniper shooting of two young women in Times Square.

Police believe the weapon is a high-powered .22-calibre air gun.

The two women and Askin apparently were shot from a moving automobile.

Report Egypt Has Seized U. S. Ship

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—(INS)—The state department revealed today that it has asked the U. S. embassy in Cairo to investigate the reported seizure by Egypt of an American merchant ship.

The Shi, the Isbrandtsen steamship lines "Flying Trader", was alleged seized on Nov. 16 while passing through the Suez Canal, on the presumption that it carried rice and trucks for Israel.

A department spokesman said that, if the incident appears to warrant it, the embassy is under standing instructions to file a vigorous protest.

Hans Isbrandtsen, head of the company, notified the state department of the incident.

John Dickey, 38, of Butler R.D. 7, at 9:40 a. m. Wednesday was treated in Jameson Memorial hospital for lacerations on the back of the head. Mr. Dickey was struck on the head by a crane while at work at the Panella Lumber Company.

Two Make Escape From State Mental Hospital Today

HARRISBURG, Nov. 18.—(INS)—Two patients described as dangerous escaped from the Harrisburg State Mental hospital today.

Dr. Paul A. Petree, superintendent, said they were Charles J. Hazlett, 33, of Huntingdon, a former inmate at the Farview hospital for the criminal insane, and Wilson K. Gladfelter, of Voe.

A key was used in the escape, Petree added.

State police flashed a nine-state alarm and Petree warned that Gladfelter was more dangerous than Hazlett.

Police said Hazlett was transferred from Farview to Harrisburg last year. He had been tried for robbery of the Mapleton National Bank near Huntingdon in 1940 and was committed to Farview. Gladfelter was described as a luggage snatcher when apprehended at a New York City airport.

Council To Compile Budget For 1949

Members of city council, acting as a board of appeals and tax revision, have heard appeals against triennial assessments for the years 1949-1951, inclusive. The hearings ended Wednesday. It is anticipated that all of the objections having been heard, council will convene within the next several days and determine finally upon appropriations for 1949.

It is anticipated that the tentative budget as presented several days ago may be adopted.

In it, however, is no provision for an increase in wages requested by city employes. If favorable action is granted by council as to the requested increase, the budget may have to be somewhat revamped to keep within a property tax of 10 mills.

Pastors of the three churches, Rev. J. L. Petrie, Methodist church; Rev. Howard Redmond, Presbyterian church, and Rev. Robert Smelzer, Christian church, will each have a part in the service of thanksgiving to God. Rev. Petrie, as host pastor, will be chairman of the service which will attract many from the ward.

The service which will get under way at 7:45 o'clock, will feature congregational singing and music by the choir of the Mahoning Methodist church aided by other choir members of the ward who will assist. Rev. Smelzer will be in charge of the devotional period, reading the Scriptures and offering the prayer. The special selection of the choir is entitled "Praise the Lord O Jerusalem" by Maunder. Betty Gibson will direct the music with Mrs. Alice McClure at the organ.

Rev. Redmond has chosen to speak on the subject "Treasures of the Snow". The service in the Seventh Ward is held on Wednesday evening each year due to the greater number being able to attend. Services in the uptown churches are conducted on Thanksgiving morning.

Germany Warned Pre-War Standard Of Living Far Away

British Occupation Commander Says It Will Take Long Time To Get Back

By TOM AGOSTON
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

FRANKFURT, Nov. 18.—General Sir Brian Robertson, British occupation commander, warned today that Germany must not expect to return to its pre-war living standard "for a long time to come".

General Robertson made a withering speech at a news conference aiming his remarks at west German leaders. He added:

"Germany must be content with a much more modest living standard for a long time."

He explained, however, that this did not mean that there is a plan to limit Germany's living standard but said the statement represented "the economic facts of life".

Robertson warned that recurring signs of large-scale boarding and profiteering resulting from the removal of controls over a wide-range of products was producing spiraling prices.

The obvious affect of such a trend, Robertson said, is the current sharp decline in crop collections. He cautioned:

"I wish to repeat this warning now. If effective action is not taken, it will be useless to cry for further imports.

"The $868-million set aside for food imports for Bizonia will have been spent and no more money will be forthcoming."

He said that hoarding and profiteering call for a unified customs administration as "the position on the frontiers is very unsatisfactory."

Robertson referred to the large scale illegal "leaks" of goods and especially Deutschmarks to the United States and Switzerland.

He stressed that soon there will be a responsible German government and that it is 'clearly desirable to set this up with the full prestige and authority necessary."

Robertson called for more speed in drafting the occupation statute, saying the issues are "too vital" to permit delay.

Contains NO alcohol, NO preservatives, NO oil, NO harmful drugs, NO dope — is NOT habit forming. Contains ONLY Nature's minerals, the oldest, most reliable remedy for rheumatism, arthritis, kidney and stomach ailments — highly recommended by the medical profession.

FOR THOUSANDS of years ever since Hipocrates was the father of medicine, minerals and other natural medicines were a reliable remedy for most of our common ailments. GEO-MINERAL will enrich your blood, help to make you strong, full of pep, life and energy. If you suffer from nutritional anemia, nervousness, lack of vitality and energy see what GEO-MINERAL will do for you.

Amazing Results

MEDICAL records show 65% of men and women over 35 suffer from nutritional mineral-iron anemia. When you feel nervous, dull, tired, lazy, have dizzy spells, no ambition to work or play, a poor appetite, when your eyes lack that bright spark, and your mind brilliance, when headaches get the best of you, and you feel old before your time, and life seems not worth living, with worry wearing you down—it may be simply lack of minerals in your blood. GEO-MINERAL is then what you need.

RHEUMATISM, arthritis are dreadful diseases. Acid coddition in the blood is often their cause. What could be the remedy? For thousands of years, minerals have been used to relieve the pain and suffering of these ills. People, on the advice of their doctors, go to mineral springs to find cure, or relief. The late President Roosevelt used to go to Warm Springs in Georgie. He was helped or would not have gone there twice a year.

Wonder Minerals

YEAR after year, people rush to mineral springs and spas, to drink and bathe in their miraculous water. We have all heard of the wondrous springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thronion in ancient Greece where, according to legend, Hercules, the god of eternal strength and youth, drank its waters and bathed to be forever young.

GEO-MINERAL contains minerals you get at the world's best springs. Watch your elimination from your bowels a day or two after using it. The waste, black as the color of your shoes, will start to break away, and you will SEE it! Also examine your urine. You may see impurities — poisonous waste — coming out of your kidneys, relieving you. And then realize the priceless value of GEO-MINERAL.

Read What They Say!

"We wish to state that after selling Geo-Mineral for eight months, this product has broken all sales records in the medicine line in our drug store"—reports Jack Wright, owner of Economy Drug Co., Anderson, S. C. "Users report almost miraculous results helping sufferers with rheumatism, arthritis, weak kidneys, and various stomach ailments. We believe that there exist very few items on the druggists' shelf with the merits of this natural mineral medicine. Of thousands of bottles sold on guarantee basis, there have been very few refunds."

100% Guaranteed!

WE URGE everyone to try GEO-MINERAL. Do not hesitate one moment. Go to your drug store now. Get one bottle. Use it one week. If you are not 100 per cent satisfied, we will refund your money.

Hopeful Sign Of Peace Seen

Russian Embassy Renovation Taken As Possible Hint Of Program

OTHER NEWS OF NATIONAL AFFAIRS

(Special To Central Press)

WASHINGTON Nov. 18.—If little things mean anything, peace prospects between the United States and Russia are brighter.

The ancient mansion housing the Soviet embassy in Washington is getting washed. Sand blasters have been at work turning the dirtied gray front into a sparkling white.

Now the old homestead of the Pullman family looks as bright as the nearby Hotel Statler. Actually the building is almost as sumptuous as any in Washington, not excepting the British embassy. It is only a little more modest than the old Japanese embassy, now housing the Far Eastern Commission which writes surrender policy for Japan.

The housecleaning at the Soviet embassy is the first in its history, which dates back to the turn of the century.

The renovating job convinces many that the Russians expect to occupy their Washington residence for some time. They cannot do this if relations are ruptured by war or an emergency.

Confession

With the election over, the Senat Ferguson investigating committee can be expected to admit that its probe of Senator Elmer Thomas' commodity speculations has been dead for months.

Committee spokesmen have said repeatedly that they still were investigating Thomas.

Actually, the investigations were limited to trying to link the Oklahoma senator with some employe of an executive agency because the Ferguson group is authorized only to probe "executive" expenditures.

Such a link would have provided the "jurisdiction" under which Thomas could be summoned by the committee. However, it was never found. Committee officials say privately that they have no hope of renewing the inquiry and they will say so publicly in a short time.

Propaganda

Some State department officials are wondering whether the American moving picture industry is not about to give an unwitting assist to Russia's internal propaganda machine through the recently announced deal for sale of pictures to the USSR.

The transaction immediately raised the question of why the Kremlin wanted American movies after so long a lapse.

The answer may be that the Soviet film industry has been unable to turn out enough presentable pictures to meet the country's needs. Hence a decline in Russian movie audiences.

Introduction of American movies may build up high attendance once more and restore an important Soviet medium for propaganda. The Russians, once in the theater to see American movies, will have to sit through government propaganda films.

Survival

Increasing emphasis placed by Air Force and Navy strategists on Alaskan Arctic areas is revealed by two late developments:

1—Air Force has reopened and tripled enrollment of its Arctic indoctrination school near Nome. Plans call for 1,400 men to go through the rigors of living on icy wastelands at 50 degrees below zero. Last year only 400 men went through the indoctrination course.

2—Jet aircraft are being sent into the northland in ever increasing numbers. Jet planes can get off the ground more rapidly, in case of emergency, than conventional aircraft.

Conventionally-powered planes take half an hour to warm up to safe-flight engine temperatures in sub-zero temperatures. Such a handicap could be fatal if an Arctic Pearl Harbor should occur.

Here is an idea of how rigorous life in frozen wastes can be: At 20 below, with a 20-mile-an-hour wind, any exposed part of the human body will freeze in 10 minutes.

Double Taxation Claim Dismissed

State Supreme Court Gives Decision On Double Taxation Complaint In Pittsburgh

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 18.—(INS)—The State Supreme Court Wednesday ruled in favor of the city of Pittsburgh in an appeal alleging double taxation.

The high tribunal reversed an Allegheny court decision against the city and the Pittsburgh school district.

The opinion written by Justice Charles Alvin Jones dismissed a bill of complaint brought by six Pittsburgh automobile firms.

Costs of the appeals were placed on the city and school district.

The complainants had charged that the city and school district attempted to impose double mercantile taxes.

Justice Jones ruled that double taxation did not exist in the case and pointed out:

"Double taxation exists only where there is the taxation twice by the same taxing power of what was regarded as the same subject, and the same kind of tax."

The complaints were the Allegheny County Motor Co., Midtown Motors, Inc.; McKinley-Gregg Automobile Co., Reo Motors, Inc.; Dixon Motor Co. and Donaldson Motor Co.

Their petition charged that the city impose one mercantile tax and the school district imposed a similar levy.

Critical Defense Need Is Revealed

Major Al Williams' Feat Shows Need Of Fast Take-Off For Planes

OTHER NEWS OF NATIONAL AFFAIRS

(Special to Central Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Maj. Al Williams' achievement in getting a jet-assisted plane off the ground from a dead standstill in 2.4 seconds lends emphasis to a critical defense need—equipment and training to get aircraft into motion after an alarm has been sounded.

No place is this need so greatly evident as in Alaska where temperatures can vary from 30 above to 30 below zero within a matter of hours.

The Air Force in Alaska has developed a heater to get plane motors in condition for flight. However, these heaters take an average of one-half hour per engine to prepare a ship for take-off.

Obviously such slow timing would prove disastrous in event of a sudden attack. So Williams' experiment looks extremely interesting to experts who must keep the Alaskan defense planes warmed up."

Repayment In Part

Senator Cham Gurney (R), South Dakota, hard-working chairman of the Senate armed services committee, revealed recently on returning from a European tour that the British Royal Air Force is supplying parts for United States B-29's operating out of England.

These parts, he said, were obtained without cost by the British from the United States, and are being given to the American bombing command free. They were taken from surplus United States stocks at the end of the war.

Gurney said the parts are in tight supply in this country now, since they are no longer being manufactured. He cited the incident as an example of co-operation which the B-29 crews are receiving from the British.

Latin-American Difficulties

The problem of relations between the United States and its Latin-American neighbors is becoming more and more acute than in the past, when, at times, it has been bad enough.

One of the chief stumbling blocks in United States relations with the Americas is that they were promised about two billion dollars in aid after the war. Due to ERP and other ventures, this aid has not yet fully materialized.

Vermont Brand of Humor

Senator Ralph E. Flanders (R), Vermont, is upholding the tradition of shrewd, cracker-barrel Yankee humor in his Capitol Hill news conferences, including a recipe for dealing with long-winded Russian speeches at the United Nations meeting.

Discussing a return from abroad on a turbulent Atlantic crossing, Flanders remarked: "Mrs. Flanders and I both kept our backs straight. Her was vertical. Mine was horizontal."

He likewise told of visiting the showing of a British film, titled Whisky Galore, which concerned the shipwreck of a liquor-laden vessel off an island in Scotland. Commenting that the picture was not to be shown in this country on moral grounds, Flanders quipped:

"If it has been shown here, it would have been called 'A Tight Little Island.'"

As for the Russians, Senator Flanders recommends: "The Russians are stuffed shirts. They're wind-filled balloons. We ought to stick some pins in them. Their three-hour speeches should be answered with three minutes' ridicule and resumption of the agenda."

Detective Thriller

One of the best shows in Washington is the Treasury department's exhibit of smugglers' tricks that failed.

There is a collection of toy watches that once concealed expensive watch movements. There is also a tub of live turtles that once contained two cans of opium. Narcotics agents found the opium inside the staves of the tub.

A clothes brush was used in an unsuccessful attempt to smuggle a fortune in diamonds into the United States. T-men found the diamonds in the handle.

SOIL TESTING LEADS TO MORE INTELLIGENT LIMING

The use of lime on farms has increased at least 2½ times in the last 15 years. Some farms may be using more lime than is needed. Once soil is sweetened a ton of ground limestone every four years (even less frequently on pasture sods) usually keeps it sweet. Larger amounts would only store up excess calcium in the soil.

One way to measure soil acidity is with the pH scale. In this pH7 is neutral. Above 7 is alkaline, a condition seldom found in Lawrence county. A pH of 6 is moderately acid; pH5 is very acid, and below 5 is too sour for satisfactory growth of any farm crop.

Experiments have indicated that except for alfalfa there is no advantage in having the soil test above 6:5; above this point some crop yields have been reduced. Below 6 it is difficult to grow red clover on most soils and below 5.5 both red and alside usually fail.

It takes relatively less lime to raise the pH of a sandy soil one full point on the pH scale and more with a heavy soil well supplied with organic matter. However, a ton of finely pulverized limestone will raise the pH about 0.5 points.

Potatoes may develop scab if the soil is at 5.5 or above. In a potato rotation some growers use only enough quickly available lime after the potatoes are dug to make it possible to grow clover in the rotation.

An agricultural extension office can test soil for acidity and many such tests are made every year. A good test depends on a really represetative soil sample. With pasture soil the sample may be best taken from the surface to two to three inches. If a field has been plowed twice since the last liming a surface sample will also be satisfactory. However, if the last application of lime has been plowed down or is still on the surface, the sample should be taken with a shovel down to plow depth. Take a little soil from a half dozen places in each area to be tested and mix it to represent an average. Different soil conditions within a field may well be sampled and tested separately.

DOG WOUNDED BY SHOTGUN, CLAIM

Mrs. Davicki, 111 Fulton street, reported to police that she let her dog out for a run.

Twenty minutes later the dog returned home, bleeding from the head and shoulders.

The dog had been wounded by shotgun pellets, she told police.

ARRESTED FOR NUMBERS

City Detectives Thomas Boyle and Jack Thompson yesterday arrested on South Mill street Henry L. Biondi on a charge of violating a city ordinance in connection with the operation of the numbers and football parlay slips. He posted $200 for a police court hearing, but failed to appear this morning.

Sgt. W. Martin, War Bride Arrive

Local Sergeant And German Bride And Daughter Here For 20 Days' Visit

Sgt. Walter Martin of West Pittsburg has arrived home with his German war bride, the former Ria Grunwald, and their 22 months old daughter Karren from Bremerhaven, and plan to spend the next 20 days with his parents, friends and relatives.

Sgt. Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Martin of West Pittsburg, was assigned to duty in Germany for the past three years. Shortly after his arrival there he married Ria Grunwald, who was then enrolled in a dressmakers school.

At the end of 20 days, Sgt. Martin will receive his new orders and will report for duty, wherever he is sent.

An amusing note is the fact that the Martins were married three times, first by a justice of the peace, which is necessary in order to have a large church wedding (or the second wedding ceremony) and again a third time in order to have the marriage recognized by the U. S. government.

Good Taste

FIANCE'S MOTHER

"I amengaged to a boy who is an only child and our only bone of contention is his insistence that we take is mother out for a drive nearly every Sunday. Don't you agree with me this is unfair?"

Answer: It behooves every prospective bride to be super-friendly with her fiance's family, if she would start off "on the right foot". Every young man's mother is resentful of losing him. Her only compensation for such a loss is the affection and attention shown by his wife who, if she is cold and indifferent, sets up a barrier that is bound to be nerve-wearing to her husband and to cause lifelong dessensions if not corrected. If every girl would approach her fiance's or husband's mother with the same cordiality and tolerance that she expects him to display toward hers, most of this friction would be eliminated from the lives of young couples.

You cannot logically expect your husband to visit your family any oftener than you visit his. And bear in mind that a busy man's attentions to family and friends can be manifested only in the evenings or on Sundays while his wife, if uneemployed, has leisure throughout the mornings and afternoons to soothe her own mother's loneliness.

Whenever your week-end plans exclude his mother, entertain her at the movies or for luncheon a day or two beforehand and her doubts as to your friendship will vanish. When you and he do take her out driving, be sure that you sit in the rear seat with her and do your utmost to entertain her. And bear in mind that in-law prejudices are plebian—if they are mere prejudices.

Question: My daughter will be married soon. Must we arrange for the groom's family's transportation to the church and to the reception, or should they take care of themselves in this matter?

Answer: The grooms' family should arrange for their own transportation. This is no duty of yours, unless you have a car and they have none, in which case it would be polite for you to ask them to go with you.

Preset your problems to Miss Markel, who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers inelosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

BITTEN BY DOG

Mrs. Pepper, 107 North Walnut street, reported to police yesterday her daughter Patty, age 6, was bitten by a dog at that address. She received hosptial attention.

Report Three Are Seeking Place In Federal Court

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 18.—Names of two Pittsburgh area congressmen and a member of the state House of Representatives Wednesday were added to the list of aspirants for the vacancy expected soon on the Federal court bench here.

Federal court veterans listed the newest candidates as Congressmen Herman P. Eberharter, Pittsburgh, and Louis E. Graham, Beaver, and State Representative Homer S. Brown, Pittsburgh attorney. Graham is a Republican, the others are Democrats.

Former Secretary Of Congressman Pleads Not Guilty

Helen Campbell Arraigned In Connection With Rep. Thomas 'Kick-Back' Charges

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—(INS)—Helen Campbell pleaded not guilty Wednesday to charges that she conspired with Rep. J. Parnell Thomas (R) N. J., to collect illegal salary "kickbacks" from congressional employes.

Miss Campbell, former secretary to Thomas, pleaded innocent to the charges at an arraignment before Federal Judge Richmond B. Keech.

Thomas, chairman of the House UnAmerican Activities Committee, pleaded not guilty to the "kickback" charges Monday and was held on $1,000 bail.

Judge Keech directed that Miss Campbell stand trial with Thomas on Jan. 10. When her court-appointed Attorney John R. Fitzpatrick, said that she was "without funds," Judge Keech set her bail at $500.

Fitzpatrick said that Miss Campbell would have to borrow money to pay the bail fee.

The formal charge against Miss Campbell is "conspiracy to defaund the government," which carries a possible maximum penalty of two years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

The grand jury which indicted Thomas and Miss Campbell charged that they arranged for two women to be put on his congressional payroll although they never worked for him.

The women were identified as Miss Campbell's niece and maid, and the grand jury said that their salaries went to Thomas through Miss Campbell.

Thomas, who also was indicted on three counts of filing false statements, faces a maximum sentence of 32 years in prison and a $40,000 fine if found guilty.

France Gets Funds To Buy Coal Lost During Coal Strike

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—(INS)—The Economic Cooperation Administration today authorized France to buy $14,452,000 worth of coal to meet shortages created by the recent Communist-led French coal strike.

ECA said that the money would be applied for the purchase of coal and related fuels largely for delivery between now and Jan. 1. A smaller part of the coal authorization, $4,817,000, will be delivered during the first three months of 1949.

ECA has announced that it plans to divert funds allocated for other materials to make up the coal lost during the French strike. It has been estimated that about 19 million dollars worth of coal was lost as a result of the walkout.

Today's authorization list also included an approval to French North Africa to buy $1,850,000 worth of coal and related fuels and $410,000 to French overseas territories for the same purpose.

Erie Woman Heads Council Of Women

HARRISBURG, Nov. 18.—(INS)—Mrs. Helen Schluraff, of Erie, today is slated to be installed as president of the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women at Harrisburg.

She was nominated without opposition to succeed Mrs. Meade D. Detweiler, of Harrisburg, who declined a third term. Other officers will also be installed.

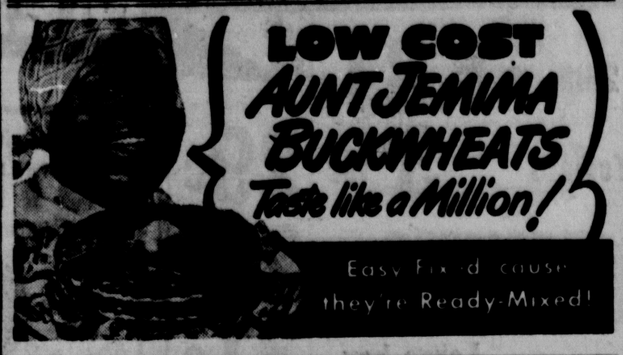

Highlight of the concluding session tonight will be a speech by U. S. Sen. Edward Martin.

The speech planned by Martin, veteran of almost a half-century in GOP politics, is expected to be in sharp contrast to the one in which Gov. James H. Duff called for "revitalization" of the party.

Duff told more than 1500 delegates yesterday that GOP leadership should gear policies "more to the thoughts and aspirations of the average American" and said business and labor "must be made to readjust the ideas with strong public opinion" should both sides fail to act for the good of the nation as a whole.

State Will Cast Formal Vote For President On Monday, December 13

By JOHN PAGET
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 18.—Pennsylvania will cast its formal vote for president December 13 within the confines of protocol almost as old as the nation.

Notwithstanding popular belief, Pennsylvania voters did not vote directly for president and vice-president but for 35 electors who are morally bound to cast their ballots for the national ticket which carried the state.

Pennsylvania's Republican electors will vote for the Dewey-Warren slate but, inasmuch as the Truman-Barkley ticket carried the nation, a majority will be registered with the electoral college for the Democratic candidates.

To Meet At Noon

The Pennsylvania college, expenses are underwritten by the general assembly, will meet at noon on the second Monday in December to carry out its constitutional duties that have changed little since the struggling state first balloted for George Washington in 1789.

The ceremony, which usually lasts between two and three hours, is bound by strict rules.

Inasmuch as Republicans lost the presidential election in the nation, much of the color will be missing from the ceremony but it will be carried out with all the solemnity attending the privilege of a free ballot.

Secretary of State Charles M. Morrison will preside until a permanent chairman is selected by electors.

Governor May Speak

If Gov. James H. Duff follows precedent he will address the electors shortly after they gather in the state senate chamber.

Then the official statewide returns will be read for the seven parties on the ballot. They were Republican, Democrat, Militant Workers, Industrial Government, Socialist, Progressive and Prohibition.

Each party filed names of presidential electors with the state elections bureau.

The total vote for each set of electors will be officially compared.

A clerk then will call the roll of Republican electors who will cast their ballots in a large bowl reserved for the ceremony. After a check, a similar ceremony will make vice-presidential balloting.

The certificate of election, signed by the electors, will be forwarded to the U. S. secretary of state for transmittal to congress.

Schools Of City Complete Junior Red Cross Drive

All the schools of the city of New Castle have achieved 100 per cent enrollment in the Junior Red Cross campaign in Lawrence county.

Mrs. Louise McConnell, executive secretary, announced today that although the drive is now only two weeks old, all of the city schools and many of the county ones have already completed their enrollment campaign. Several schools in the outlying areas have not yet reported but it is hoped that a complete, 100 per cent membership may be achieved in the near future.

Gift boxes for children overseas is one of the main projects of the club this year and already 100 have been packed with everything from tooth paste and tooth brushes to yo-yos. The children display genuine enthusiasm and originality in packing these boxes that are a combination practical gift and source of entertainment for European children.

Cranberries Rate High In Vitamin C

America's Oldest Fruit Supplies Color And Food Value To Fall Dinners

America's oldest fruit, the cranberry, is supplying both cheer and food value to America's dinner table, reports Mrs. William Cosel, nutrition chairman of the Lawrence County Red Cross Chapter.

Long before the landing of the Pilgrims the original Americans prized these tart, red berries with great medicinal value. In the England of 1700, a medical man described the juice of the cranberry as a "fine drink for people in fevers." Today our research chemists tell us the cranberry is a very good source of vitamin C; being comparable to good tomato juice. Like the tomato, the cranberry, because it is acid in nature is able to retain the vitamin C content remarkably well in storage and shipping.

A bouncing cranberry is the best buy. Fresh berries are plump, firm and will bounce when dropped. They will retain more of their vitamin C, says Mrs. Cosel when cooked whole for only a moment to burst the skins.

In testing, railroad wheels are run as high as 140 miles an hour. Hydraulic brake shoes, applied at this speed, heat the wheel to a glowing red, and as many as 750 of the "stop tests" may be made before the wheel cracks. Testing sometimes lasts six months.

In Coma 283 Days, Coast Girl Dies

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Nov. 18—(INS)—Anna Marie Cox, 21-year-old "sleeping beauty", has died after 283 days in coma.

Anna succumed yesterday at a private nursing home to the brain injury she suffered in a Topanga Canyon motorcycle accident Feb. 8.

Brought to St. John's hospital the night of the accident, the fragile young woman was not expected to survive. Although paralyzed she clung to life for almost a year.

The world's largest fresh-water fish-packing combine is located at Colerain, N. C., where three herring plants can put up a million and a half fish a day.

Urges Year Round Little Assembly To Be Continued

PARIS, Nov. 18.—(INS)—The United States urged Wednesday that the United Nations continue the year-round "little assembly".

John Foster Dulles spoke at a political committee session called specifically to consider extending the life of the international group.

He praised the little assembly as a "useful body" and in effect invited the Russians to participate.

Dulles said it was an "earnest and sincere hope" that all members of the U. N. would take part in the little assembly.

The Soviets heretofore have boycotted the group.

Dr. Oscar Lang of Poland, however, rejected the bid to Soviet bloc nations to end their boycott. He asserted that the original objections of nations in the Soviet sphere still apply.

When Russia, Byelorussia, the Ukraine, Czechoslovakia, Poland and Yugoslavia opposed the measure establishing the interim assembly group last November it was charged that the body would destroy the security council.

Strike Pickets Halt Relief Work At CARE Center

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 18.—(INS)—The Longshoremen's strike today forced a shutdown of the Philadelphia center for packaging and shipping CARE food parcels to Europe.

Stevedore pickets prevented trucks from delivering supplies to the center, according to Joseph H. Weaver, CARE representative.

Weaver said packing could have continued, even though the strike prevented shipment aboard, were it not for the pickets.

Meanwhile, railroad officials in Philadelphia said an increased number of railroad men will be laid off next week because of the strike.

Spokesmen for the Pennsylvania and Reading lines reported small-scale layoffs already have been made on trains serving the waterfront piers and warehouses in Philadelphia.

Governor To Fill $18,000 Judgeship Post At Harrisburg

Governor Duff Will Fill Other Vacancies Existing Before General Assembly Meets

HARRISBURG, Nov. 18.—(INS)—Gov. James H. Duff today was expected to round out his administrative household before the General Assembly convenes in January.

Vacancies on the chief executive's list of appointive posts include three major positions.

Foremost among the vacancies is the empty seat on the Dauphin County Common Pleas bench caused by the death of President Judge William M. Hargest last spring.

The $18,000-a-year post is considered a prize plum among legal circles since it is the only court before which "commonwealth cases" may be tried. Duff is expected to dispose of the appointment shortly to take pressure off the court which often must call on visiting jurists to handle its crowded docket.

Most prominent among more than a dozen men mentioned for the post are Deputy Attorney General George W. Keletel and Harrisburg City Solicitor Paul Smith.

Important Vacancy

The second important vacancy awaiting the governor's action is the appointment of a judge to the Philadelphia municipal court bench. The $12,000 post was held by the late Judge Edward Shmidheiser.

The other important vacancy among appointive positions is that on the Philadelphia registration commission created by the death of Michael R. Kerwick. The post pays $6,000 a year.

The appointments of the four remaining commissioners expire in January, although by law they may continue to serve until successors are appointed.

A similar situation exists on the Scranton registration commission where all five commissioners have continued serving although their appointments expired two years ago. Duff reportedly has deliberately avoided appointing the Scranton commission because of a bitter factional dispute among the county's Republican leaders.

The appointments of three members of the Pittsburgh registration commission also expire in January.

Others Affected

Other high state officials serving despite expired terms are Charles C. McGovern, $10,000-a-year liquor control board member whose term expired in March, and John J. Snyder, milk control commission member whose appointment expired May 1, 1941.

Nearly a dozen other ranking officials are in a similar situation. They include: Clarence E. Blackburn and Chairman Harry E. Englehart of the unemployment compensation board of review; John Clyde Fisher, of the state censors board; Daniel G. Murphy, chairman, Wilmer M. Jacoby, and Leo G. Knoll, all of the workmen's compensation board; Raymond A. Cox and J. Myron Honigman, of the state securities commission; and George Young, of the state civil service commission.

Navy Commanders Assigned To Posts

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—(INS)—The Navy today placed new commanders over carrier task forces in both the Atlantic and the Pacific.

Rear Adm. Joseph J. Clark, of Chelsea, Okla., will relieve Rear Adm. Ralph E. Jennings, of Washington, D. C., as commander of Carrier Division Four, Atlantic fleet, and Read Adm. Dixwell Ketcham, Palo Alto, Calif., will replace Rear Adm. Harold M. Martin in command of Carried Division Five, Pacific fleet.

Loop-O-Planes Produce Chills, Thrills, Money

SALEM, Ore.—(INS)—A Salem aircraft manufacturer loves to hear his customers scream as though they were scared to death. When he hears those blood curdling screeches he knows he was right when he stopped making planes and started making thrill rides for county fairs.

Lee U. Eyerly got the idea when the depression put aviation flat on its back.

He developed a pilot trainer that rolled and turned like an airplane. Eyerly soon found out people like to ride the things whether training to be pilots or not. Fairs and carnivals bought out the first 50 machines, depression or not, before Eyerly could sell them to anyone else.

Started Loop-O-Planes

That started a line of Loop-O-Planes, Roll-O-Planes, Fly-O-Planes, Rock-O-Planes and a twisting hair-raiser called the Octopus. All are fuselages whirling on the end of an axis.

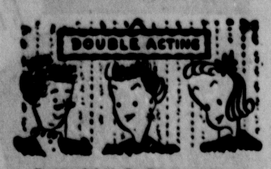

Eyerly is most interested in his latest "Rock-O-Plane" which is like a ferris-wheel except thrill seekers stepping into wire-covered cages find they may go upside-down.

As a result Eyerly Aircraft company doesn't make airplanes any more. It seems there's more money and thrills in whirling planes that never leave the ground.

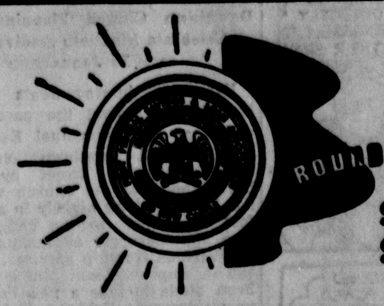

FARM LINE MAPS

HARRISBURG — Secretary of Internal Affairs William S. Livengood, Jr., announces that farm line maps are now available for all of the area in eastern Butler and Western Armstrong counties that is included in the Kittanning Quadrangle. Blue print copies may be obtained at the cost of reproduction, by addressing William S. Lytle, Bureau of Topographic and Geologic Survey, Room 9, Chamber of Commerce Building, Butler.

In the previous year, it was added, the wage total was $44,050,100 in 141 industries which reported.

The department said that in 73 establishments which reported from New Castle for 1947, wages and salaries amounted to $26,606,100 compared with $21,566,100 in 74 industries.

In Ellwood City, the wage-salary total for 25 industries was $18,802,700 in 25 industries while the previous year the amount was $14,783,500. The number of Ellwood City reports did not change.

U. S. Mail Order Catalogue Japan's Guide To Fashions

TOKYO, Nov. 18.—(INS)—The American mail-order house catalogue—subject of countless anecdotes—has gained new stature among the Japanese.

It has come to be regarded as the official guide to current American fashions—from clothes to household appliances.

A brisk market recently developed for the bulky volumes, which can be obtained free by any customer.

But since Japanese are barred by occupation rules from making purchases abroad, they have to rely on Americans in Japan to provide them with catalogues.

The "scarcity value" placed upon them by Japanese purchasers is 3,000 yen a volume, (about $11).

The catalogues are then torn up according to sections and sold to interested businessmen who use the pictures for guidance in designing their products.

The middleman—whose only labor is procure the catalogues, separating them according to sections and peddling them—makes a five-fold profit on the deal.

Seeking Officers For Installations

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—(INS)—The air force today sought the services of 500 qualified air installation officers for maintenance, repair, extension and planning of airfields necessary for the expanded USAF.

The engineer officers, who the air force hopes to obtain from reserve and National Guard ranks, will fill existing vacancies and replace army engineers on loan to the USAF.

1948-49 Egg Contest May Set New Record

HARRISBURG, Nov. 18.—At the end of the first month of the 1948-49 Pennsylvania Official Egg Laying Contest sponsored here by the State Department of Agriculture, all records showed improvement over the first month of the 1947-48 contest.

With the same number of birds in competition, 1,287 in 99 pens, the number of eggs produced was 18,250, exceeding the previous year's total for that month by 1,064. The average number of eggs per bird for the first month of the current contest was 14.8 compared with 13.35 for the same period in the 1947-48 event, according to E. J. Lawless, Jr., test supervisor. Total points scored by this year's birds were 1,024.9 higher, averaging 0.87 more per bird.

Improvements Made At Emmanuel U.B.

Downtown Church Planning To Celebrate Ninetieth Anniversary In January

Extensive improvements have been made during the past few weeks at the Emmanuel Evangelical United Brethren church, South Jefferson street by the brotherhood of the church which has been working nightly in an effort to present to the congregation a modernized auditorium for the various worship services.

The improvements which have been made include a new ceiling, new florescent lights, painting of the walls, and news and revarnishing of the woodwork. Due to the cooperation of the men of the church in offering their services, the cost of the work has been greatly cut.

Emmanuel church is looking forward to the celebration of the ninetieth anniversary which will be commemorated the first part of January 1949, at which time Conference Superintendent, Dr. H. W. Kaebnick of Somerset, Pa., will be the special speaker.

DeGaulle Against U.S.-British Plans For Soviet Bulwark

PARIS, Nov. 18.—(INS)—Gen. Charles DeGaulle voiced a warning Wednesday against what he asserted were American and British plans to rebuild a unified Germany as a bulwark against Russia.

The former provisional president of France declared that the Soviets themselves also wish to strengthen Germany with a view to the moment that allied military occupation will cease.

Speaking at a news conference, DeGaulle said that a unified Germany "certainly will not evolve toward tranquility and moderation but toward adventure".

Commenting on recent gains made by members of his French People's Rally in winning seats in the council of the republic, De Gaulle declared:

"We are on the march."

He said, however, that no members of his following will enter the government at this time.

On the matter of defense De Gaulle said he did not believe in an organization centered on Britain. He proposed that in any future conflict the west should constitute three theatres of operations, the first to cover Europe and North Africa, the second the near east and eastern Africa, and the third the far east.

DeGaulle said France should have responsibility in the first of these theatres, Britain in the second and the U. S. in the third.

Fifteen Appointed To Planning Board

HARRISBURG, Nov. 18.—(INS)—Fifteen Pennsylvanians today held appointments from Gov. James H. Duff as citizen members of the State Planning Board.

The board, a Commerce department administrative agency, is charged with coordinating a long-term program of physical development for the state.

Notable List

Cabinet members appointed were Commerce Secretary Orus J. Matthews, chairman ex-offico; Forests and Waters Secretary Milo F. Draemel; Agriculture Secretary Miles Horst; and Highways Secretary Ray F. Smock.

Newly appointees were President Judge Curtis Bok, Philadelphia Common Pleas court; Mrs. Hannah M. Durham, Allentown; Dr. S. W. Fletcher, State College; G. Richard Fryling, Erie; Edward Hopkinson, Jr., chairman, Philadelphia City Planning Commission; S. E. Lauer, York industrialist; James L. McDeavitt, president Pennsylvania Federation of Labor (AFL); Richard K. Mellon, Pittsburgh financier; and H. W. Prentis, Jr., Lancaster industrialist.

Reappointed were Dr. Alfred H. Williams, president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia, and George W. Reily, Harrisburg.

Turkeys Aplenty In Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG, Nov. 18.—(INS)—There will be turkey aplenty for Thanksgiving and Christmas tables in Pennsylvania.

The State Agriculture Department reported that "large supplies" of turkeys have been frozen and supplies on hand will be sufficient to meet demands, despite a four per cent decline in production.

Turkey growers produced an estimated 1,264,000 birds this year, the department said.

Many farmers marketed turkeys early this fall due to the high cost of feed, but others are holding their flocks off the market for later demand.

There are about 13,000,000 bicycles in the United States.

MILLS OPERATING AT 99 PER CENT

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—(INS)—The consumer demand for steel continued unabated throughout the nation today and indications are that there will be no production slowdowns.

The American Iron and Steel Institute reported mills are operating at 99 per cent of capacity.

At the same time the magazine Iron Age reported that conversion deals have picked up in tonnage.

Senator Tallman Plans To Oppose Senator Taylor

HARRISBURG, Nov. 18.—(INS)—Sen. O. J. Tallman, of Allentown, said he would battle Sen. M. Harvey Taylor, GOP state chairman, for the senate president pro tempore post.

The Lehigh Republican's announcement shattered the surface calm of Republican circles and it was understood that GOP Elder Joseph R. Grundy, of Bristol, was enroute to the state Capitol.

It was assumed Grundy would interest himself in the split which has developed in Senate leadership.

Tallman, majority leader during the 1947 session, and Taylor were guests at a noon session of the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women but they did not exchange greetings.

Tallman said he would not accept the majority leader's post again.

Taylor, a veteran lieutenant of Grundy, is a candidate for re-election to the president's post.

The dispute will come to a head Friday when Senate Republicans meet at Hershey to elect officers for the 1948 session of the General Assembly.

Gov. James H. Duff has indicated some preference for Taylor but it was indicated today he may steer clear of the dispute in view of his call for revitalization of the GOP.

Says Labor Strife Taken As Sign Of National Disunity

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 18.—(INS)—Federal Mediation Director Cyrus S. Ching warned the American Federation of Labor on Wednesday that labor strife will be taken as a sign of national disunity by the enemies of this country.

Ching told the 700 delegates to the AFL's 67th annual convention in Cincinnati:

"If we are not able to demonstrate to the rest of the world that under our system we have national unity and the desire and ability to get along together and live in peace and harmony, then, although we may understand in this country, the rest of the world will not understand.

"Every small conflict we have will be exaggerated and magnified by those who seek to destroy our system."

Bears And Bolt Busters Start Preparing For Championship Game

Turkey Day Contest Interest Is Growing

New Castle and Ellwood City football fans are going to see a whale of a championship grid battle at the stadium here Thanksgiving Day as the Wabash Bears and Ellwood City Bolt Busters tangle.

The kickoff a week from today will occur at 2:15 o'clock. It will no doubt find a packed stadium on hand. Interest in the game in both towns is at fever heat. The Pro-Indus club of New Castle is sponsoring the game. It is a charity affair.

Who Will Win?

Which team will win? This is the big question. This is the question that has been uppermost in the fans' minds since the 6-6 tie last year. To the victor will go the semi-pro championship of Lawrence county.

Both teams have started intensive training. There is a lot riding on this fray and they want to win.

The Bolt Busters have won seven and lost two games this year, the Bears have been defeated once, and have won four and tied one.

Both teams feature former high school and college stars. Both teams have tricky formations. The Bears will have a slight weight advantage.

Tickets Are Moving

Tickets in both towns are moving good. Local fans can get their reserved seats at Gus' Men's Wear, 106 East Washington street. The choice seats on the 50-yard line are selling for $1. There are also 75 cent reserved seats on the end sections of the steel bleachers.

The Ellwood team will be followed here by over 2,000 fans. The Ellwood rooters will sit in the concrete stands, center sections.

It will be a football game worth seeing. It will be for a good cause. It's one week from today so don't put off too long getting those tickets.

The New Castle High band will give a swell halftime show.

Ellwood Oasis Seek Loop Berth

George Patterson, veteran floor star, revealed today that the Ellwood City Oasis basketball team will seek a berth in the proposed city-county league.

"We can field a fast quintet and have two floors available, and will be out to win," Patterson said.

Patterson was firm in his belief that such a league should be formed in the county and promised his fullest cooperation. Ellwood will have two teams, the Vets also seeking a franchise in the proposed circuit. Ellwood can support two teams, Patterson contends.

KING AND RICE SIGN FOR BOUT

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—(INS)—Arthur King of Toronto British empire lightweight champion and Chester Rico New York veteran signed Wednesday for a 10-round fight at New York's St. Nick's arena Nov. 26.

King knocked out Billy Thompson to win his British title at Manchester last Oct. 1. He knocked out Nat Hardin in his American debut at Philadelphia, Nov. 8.

Last Night's Ring Results

(By International News Service)

AT EL PASO—Manuel Rivera, 132, Mexico City, outpointed Lauro Salas, 124, Los Angeles, 10 rounds.

Only once before this season in the history of Juniata college football has an Indian grid team recorded four successive triumphs in a single season. That was in 1929.

Wampum Floor Card Announced

Sectional Champions Open Season December 3; Hit Hard By Graduation

Wampum High Indians open a 20-game schedule December 3 at Monaca, play five more non-league tussles before Christmas vacation, and begin defense of the section 23 title January 4 at Princeton.

The Indians can always be counted on to give someone a really tough ball game and in recent years they have certainly managed to win their share. However, prospects this year are not too bright and Coach Butler Hennon will be spending a lot of time with the newcomers if the Indians are to be in the thick of this year's pennant chase.

Miller Missed

Mohr, McMillin and Vance have been lost to the team by graduation. King and Miller failed to pass the physical examination and Richardson has withdrawn from school. Miller, a six-foot-five center, will be missed plenty in the height department this year as Coach Hennon has only two men who just make the 6-foot mark.

King, a forward, and R. Armatorio, a guard, are the only seniors on the squad and if the younger boys can be brought along satisfactorily pre-season favorites, Bessemer and Mt. Jackson, will have their hands full with the fast moving, sharp shooting Indians.

Schedule

The schedule:

Dec. 3, at Monaca; Dec. 7, Zelienople; Dec. 10, Midland; Dec. 14, Monaca; Dec. 17, at Zelienople; Dec. 23, at Midland.

Jan. 4, at Princeton; Jan. 7, Shenango; Jan. 11, at Union; Jan. 14, at East Brook; Jan. 18, Mt. Jackson; Jan. 21, at Bessemer; Jan. 25, New Wilmington; Jan. 28, Princeton.

Feb. 1, at Shenango; Feb. 4, Union; Feb. 8, East Brook; Feb. 11, at Mt. Jackson; Feb. 15, Bessemer, and Feb. 18, at New Wilmington.

Can Pitt's Panthers Stop Unbeaten State?

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 18.—Pitt's Panthers are victory-hungry again. After upsetting a highly rated Purdue eleven Saturday, Coach Walter Milligan's Blue and Gold huskies are out to try and repeat their last week's feat at the expense of unbeaten Penn State's Nittany Lion squad as a grand climax to the end of 1948 grid warfare.

The Pitts have surprised the gridiron sages with their slambang brand of ball this fall, and have caused many a gray hair to sprout on the heads of opposing coaches as they read the scouting reports.

Little Lou "Bimbo" Cecconi, the Donora speedster, has advanced to fourth in the nation in total offense, having gained a total of 798 yards in seven games, only three yards out of third place. Bimbo, along with the other speedsters in the Panther backfield, have run and passed the Blue and Gold to the best season in years.

Final Game For Nine

Jimmy Joe Robinson, nicknamed the "Connellsville Comet" after his 100-yard jaunt against the Boilermakers, brings back memories of other Panther backfield greats. The 190-pound Negro lad is just coming into his own at Skyscraper U. Along with Bobby Lee, Jimmy Joe has just been a cog in the smoothly functioning Pittsburgh backfield machine until he pulled a juggling act on a last-minute touchdown pass and held it to beat the Indiana eleven, and then uncorked that 100-yard hipper-dipper run against Purdue.

The Panthers have nine men playing their last season of ball for the Blue and Gold. They lose their two great terminals, Leo Skladany, and Bill McPeak, along with center Don Fisher, tackles Wib Forsythe and Ralph Coleman, quarterbacks Walter Cummins and Pete Fuderich, and halfbacks Jack Smodic and Tony DiMatteo. DiMatteo played the first part of the season, but has been sidelined the rest of the year because of injuries.

Cerdan Arriving By Plane Today

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—(INS)—Middleweight champion Marcel Cerdan is scheduled to arrive by plane from Paris today to begin training for an impending non-title appearance at Madison Square Garden.

The Frenchman also was understood to be under option to the rival Tourament of Champions for his first defense of the championship he won several months ago by a knockout over Tony Zale at the Jersey City ball park.

May Meet Robinson

Meanwhile a press conference at Tournament of Champions headquarters was scheduled today, with the possibility that Cerdan might arrive in time to attend.

With Zale at the retirement stage and Rocky Grazianos' fighting condition in doubt, welterweight champion Ray Robinson loomed as the foremost challenger for Cerdan's title.

The European's over-the-weight match at the Garden was announced recently for 10 rounds against an opponent still to be selected.

Grove City Awaits Tech Game Saturday, Final One Of Year

GROVE CITY, Nov. 18.—Coach Jim Loveless will seek the answer to a sluggish Grove City offense that has scored only twice in the last two games, in the week's preparation for the final with Carnegie Tech here Saturday.

The Crimson coach has warned his squad that a sharper attack is necessary unless the Grovers are to achieve the unenviable distinction of becoming the team to end the Tartans' 25-game losing streak. Carnegie Tech has scored this year against stronger opponents than the Grovers have encountered.

In Good Shape

In the Slippery Rock and Westminster games, the Grove City attack has been limited to consistent gains by Jack Shankle, reliable fullback. Opponents have been stopping Grove City's outside plays in scoring territory, and the week's drills will be designed to improve the blocking and speed up this phase of attack. Help is expected from Sam Restivo, who has been out for two weeks, and from Dick Dickson, who is suffering from an ankle injury. Addition for these freshmen backs will speed up the Grover attack.

Jimmy Bivins Wins 'Decision' Over Joe Louis

Cleveland Newsmen Give Exhibition Bout To Bevins, Louis Flashes Form

CLEVELAND, Nov. 18.—(INS)—Jimmy Bivins has a "decision" over heavyweight champ Joe Louis to his credit today, but nobody seems to care much.

As far as the 10,048 fans who saw the pair in a six-round exhibition last night in Cleveland are concerned, Louis still is the world champion—with everything the title implies.

True enough, Bivins walked off with the newsmen's verdict after his six-round mitting with the Brown Bomber, but it was apparent to all that whenever Bivins got too rambunctious, Mr. Louis always was there to slap him back.

Bivins Looks Good

Only twice did the champion come out of his dawdling to clout the ambitious former duration heavyweight king, and both times he convinced both Bivins and the assembled spectators that the bout was his for the taking.

The champ preferred to string along with Bivins' forcing tactics, however, and for four of the six cantos, the Clevelander looked at least as good, if not better, than his lumbering opponent.

Louis outweighed Jimmy by more than 40 pounds.

Army and Penn State, both contenders for eastern collegiate football honors, will meet in 1949 and again in 1950. H. R. Gilbert, graduate manager of Penn State athletics, said both games will be played at West Point, N. Y.

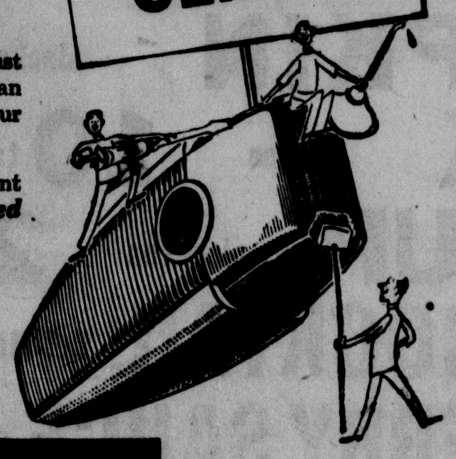

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

RECENT Pennsylvania deer season may be considered indicative. 400,000 hunters will take to the wooded areas of the state this year, each with the hope of bringing down a prize animal. There is far less likelihood that bucks taken this season will be as large and heavily racked as those brought in twenty years ago. An overly-large herd, feeding on constantly diminishing natural foods, among other things indicates small deer and inferior antler growth on the average. Nevertheless, thousands of vacationing nimrods will again enjoy camp life and all that it means to those who like to rough it. The less fortunate will enjoy the chase catch-as-catch-can, mostly as day hunters. Many will return home discouraged, having seen many deer but no legal bucks. Others more fortunate will bring home an animal that, while it is no prize, will provide meat for the pot. Two recommendations are offered those who like to play oldtimer and stalk their quarry, wearing clothing that blends with the forest background to allow them to approach close to deer unobserved. First, delay the frontier-type operation until at least late in the season, when it is less likely anxious fingers will be afield, looking for "something moving in the brush that looks like a deer". Second, wear plenty of bright red on garments. It seems that a surprising number of people look like deer to other people. It should be recognized that guns capable of killing deer are capable of killing humans too. And 'death is so permanent". So be careful. Wear red conspicuously. Don't cause sadness or anguish. Don't force remorsefulness on yourself. Don't squeeze that trigger unless you are positive of your legal, wild target. Deer season begins 7:00 a. m., November 29, closes 5:0 0p. m., December 11.

Jack White who managed Jimmy Thomas, colored featherweight, who several decades ago fought several times at the not yet forgotten Jolly bowl, is the promoter of Pittsburgh Aragon garden's boxing. He has what appears to be a good welterweight match for tonight, namely, Bobby Neal, Beaver Falls against Irish Jimmy Saunders, Warren. Ted Fittipaldo, also of Warren, will box Carl Baer, Coalport, in his Pittsburgh debut. . . . Herman Steinbrink and Harry Jones witnessed Joe Louis exhibit against Jimmy Bivins last night in Cleveland. . . . Andy Dodds, W. Walter Magee, Merle Glitch, Kenny Cotton of this city, and Ralph Bennett, Beaver County, have returned from a hunting trip at the head of Ross Run, Forest County. Their luck was nil. However, Dodds reports seeing three bucks and plenty of squirrels. . . . John DeMauro, Ellwood City, was one Ellwood citizen who bagged a 250-pound bear near Marienville. Among the party was Joe Gargasz of Northview avenue. . . . Duquesne gardens, Pittsburgh, will have a big assembly when Lee Sala fights Reuben Jones, Norfolk, in a return match, Monday night. Lee had a dificult time beating Jones in New York's St. Nicholas rink recently. . . . Tommy Leach, matchmaker of the Jefferson A. C., has forwarded contracts to Art Williams, Pittsburgh, and Rizieri Ronzi, Youngstown, for an eight round main bout in The Arena, December 8. . . . Penn Power Company Men's club will hold a smoker, in the service building garage, November 26 ,one night after the twenty-ninth annual dance by the Fraternal Order of Police in the Cathedral, for which pasteboards at $2 per couple, are now being sold.

Exciting Hockey Games Wednesday

(By International News Service)

The Boston Bruins today are in hot pursuit of the National Hockey League title and are only one point behind the league-leading Detroit Red Wings.

Boston edged closer to Detroit last night by whipping the champion Toronto Maple Leafs, 2 to 1 in Boston.

The Red Wings came from behind to tie the New York Rangers, 4 to 4 in Detroit.

Rangers Gain

The Rangers gained a point in the standings and moved into a fourth-place with the Leafs. Both teams have eight points each.

The last-place Chicago Black Hawks came off a 3 to 2 deficit, and scored twice in the third period to nip the third-place Montreal Canadiens 4 to 3 in Chicago.

Hershey Wins

In the American League, Hershey downed the Philadelphia Rockets, 5-3.

Providence romped to a 6-0 win over New Haven. Buffalo moved into a tie for second place in the western division with an 8-3 triumph over Indianapolis.

Cleveland outplayed Springfield 4 to 2. St. Louis bested Washington 7 to 2.

Penguins To Play Baldwin-Wallace

The Youngstown College Penguins will wind up their 1948 campaign against the strong Baldwin-Wallace "Yellow Jackets" at Youngstown Rayen Stadium Friday night, November 19, at 8 p.m.

The game will mark the end of the collegiate careers of Halfback Bob Thompson, defensive ace, Francis Smouse, guard, Don Zangara, guard, and Conny Lucci, fullback. Dick Organ, also a senior had his career terminated by an injury in the Oklahoma City game.

NEW GOALIE MAKES AUSPICIOUS DEBUT

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 18.—(INS)—Don Dougall's debut as goalie for the Philadelphia Rockets was hailed by hockey fans today, but it failed to save the Quaker City team from a 5-3 defeat by Hershey.

Dougall, a former amateur from Galt, Ontario, made 36 saves but the Rockets never were able to take the lead in last night's game at the Arena.

IKE WILLIAMS TO BATTLE NIXON

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 18.—(INS)—Lightweight champ Ike Williams meets Billy Nixon of Philadelphia at the Met tonight in an eight-round non-title bout.

Trenton's Ike will be favored to take his 19th straight victory. The champ will donate his purse to the Trenton YMCA's Carver club for boys and girls.

Stardom for Him

GOLF EXPERTS describe this 18-year-old golfer as the best prospect for links fame in many years. He is Peter Thomson of Melbourne, Australia, who won his first club championship at 15 and has been winning consistently ever since. He recently outplayed the well-known Jim Ferrier. (International)

Has Stoneham in Durocher simply changed the neon outside the establishment and left the same fly-specked bill-of-fare inside-

Penn State's extra-point specialist, Carl Sturges, tuned up his kicking toe during Army service in Iceland.

Union Civics Plan Banquet

Carmen DeLeone, manager of the Union Civics baseball team of the city league, said today that a banquet for the team will be held on December 19th, and that any one wanting to attend can contact him at 112 West Washington street.

The Union Civics according to DeLeone are planning for a strong basketball team this winter.

ENGLISH HORSES ARE FLOWN HERE

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—(INS)—Two English-bred three-year-olds from the Aga Khan's racing stables arrived in New York by plane from London, presumably to race against America's champion, Citation.

Nathoo, 1948 Irish Derby winner, and Noor completed the north Atlantic flight last night.

Plans for the two thoroughbreds have not yet been outlined but racing observers believe that Nathoo and Noor will be entered against Citation in the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap Feb. 26.

BILLY SMITH TO BATTLE LOUIS

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 18.—(INS)—A last-minute substitution for the Alabama Kid against Joe Louis in Cincinnati Nov. 29 was made today.

The change in plans calls for Billy Smith of Oakland, Calif., to run through a four-round bout as part of the world champion's exhibition tour.

Clyde Kluttz, now of the Pirates, belonged to three separate big league clubs on May 1, 1946. He was with ths New York Giants in the morning, the Phillies in the afternoon, and by nightfall was sold to the St. Louis Cardinals.

Treat Fifteen For Rabies At Wheeling

WHEELING, W. Va., Nov. 18.—(INS)—Twelve children and three adults were being given the Patseur treatment today after the dog that bit them was found to be rabid.

The victims were bitten when the dog ran wild through the Vineyard Hill housing project in Wheeling Tuesday. The dog was captured and killed Wednesday and its head was sent to the West Virginia university at Morgantown, where it was found to be infected.

It is the third rabid dog that has been found in Wheeling since a quarantine went into effect on Oct. 15. Some 35 persons have been bitten by dogs in Wheeling since that date, police estimate, several of them by the rabid dogs.

German Communist Squad Makes Raid, Steals 15 Autos

BERLIN, Nov. 18.—(INS)—West Berlin police reported today that a German Communist "action squad" raided the city council's motor pool in the British sector and stole 15 autos.

The police said that the Communists overpowered the motor pool guard and drove off to the Soviet sector with the vehicles.

An East sector German spokesman said that the Russians ordered the raid, on the grounds that the cars had been transferred "illegally" to West Berlin when the city council moved.

New York Stocks

STOCKS HOLD IN NARROW RANGE

Price Changes And Interest In Market Lowest Since Recent Election

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—(INS)—Stocks held in a narrow range today, with both price changes and interest at the lowest point since the elections.

The dullness was not unexpected. Market analysts had been predicting for the last few days that the market would turn quiet as both traders and investors attempted to readjust their holdings in view of the election returns.

Although price trends were well scrambled, minus signs had a slight edge, especially in the rails. Other groups vacillated between plus and eighth and minus an eighth almost with every sale.

Bonds and the curb list were quiet.

Grains were mixed. Cotton was slightly easier.

Hang Murderer In British Prison

NORWICH, England, Nov. 18.—(INS)—Britain's first murderer to be hanged in the past nine months was executed in Norwich prison today despite opposition to capital punishment in high labor government circles.

Sixteen convicted murders have been reprieved from the gallows by government action since the last previous hanging, February 19.

The man hanged today, 36-year-old Stanley Clark, was convicted of murdering a chambermaid in a resort hotel.

Another convicted killer, Peter Griffiths, 22, is scheduled for execution tomorrow in Walton prison, Liverpool. He was convicted of murdering a three-year-old child.

Deliveries On Overseas Yule Not Guaranteed

Mail For Overseas Is Still Being Accepted At Post Office, However

Deliveries on yule mail destined for men in service overseas, and for relatives in foreign lands, is not guaranteed by Christmas, Postmaster William R. Hanna stated today, but such mail is still being accepted.

Warning was issued earlier in the year that overseas mailing should take place between October 15, in order to guarantee its arrival by Christmas.

The dock strike along the eastern seaboard has further delayed a lot of this mail, which came in at the eleventh hour, it has been found.

Grasselli Strike Appears Deadlocked

Strike settlement negotiations at the Grasselli plant of the E. I. Du Pont de Nemours Company seem to have bogged down.

At noon today it was said that negotiations had been broken off and that for the present at least, no conferences between management and union were scheduled.

The men of the plant, about 75 in all, went on strike a week ago when the issue of wages, holidays and clothing allowances were brought into negotiation.

Federal Conciliator Charles R. Ward has attempted to bring a settlement of the strike but thus far has been unsuccessful.
